Directing the band is a challenging and rewarding job. Drum major Brian Catherman is well pleased with the performance of the band at the Bloomsburg football game.

Spirit Is Soaring Up, Up and Away at SAHS

Summer is a time when spirits are free and filled with adventure. To some, the fall season may signal the dormancy of plant life and bears in a cruel world, but at SAHS things are just starting to jump. With all the surprises from the renovations, the student body is full of energy. And to keep the enthusiasm growing, Mother Nature did not let us down! This fall was more like a continuation of summer weather — and fun — than a precursor to winter. Along with optimal weather conditions, this year was filled with pep rallies, sports events, club meetings and, yes, homework assignments. But even the threat of a term paper could not overshadow the excitement of SAHS. Together, we used our spirit to create an atmosphere of adventure to keep us soaring through the school year.

The Varsity football players have reached their favorite place — the top of Coach Scott's Hill!!

Like a hot air balloon, our Spirit is Soaring and we are rising to the top at SAHS.

Some members of Student Council spent the afternoon making a pathway for the Court members to walk down during the outdoors Homecoming celebration. But Matt Pamental is busy deciding whether Amy Ritter looks better in autumn orange or summer blue while Mr. Messner stares on in disbelief.

"Sleigh Bells Ring" as junior class representatives Chris Rinseland and Angie Wolfe ride on a float depicting a "Winter Wonderland" created by their classmates.

With a sly grin, Michelle Wolfe is tempted to don her shoulder pads and helmet so she can be the first to run through the hoop at Friday night's football game.

Never Again Quite Like This!

With the outbreak of the school year, students boisterously crammed into the summer-empty classrooms and prepared for yet another year of academic life. However, the students realized there would Never Again be a year Quite Like This!

Although no students roamed the halls of SAHS during the summer of '84, many construction workers did. To say the classrooms were empty is quite an understatement. Many of the walls were torn down to remove the asbestos and the word barren would be more descriptive.

While the construction workers were hard at work, so were many of the students. But everyone found time to relax and enjoy the summer fun. In August our playing fields became alive with the enthusiasm of the fall sports teams, the music of the band, and the spirit of the cheerleaders.

All too soon the laughter-filled summer days lapsed into crisp autumn school days. Students mumbled and grumbled because they knew their classes would be noisy and crowded. But with the promise of a "new and improved" school building, the halls transformed into noisy pathways of students trying to find new classes.

Reflecting on the activities surrounding him, John Stuck pauses a moment to decide who will be the subject of his next photograph.

Overwhelming joy surrounds the new 1984 Homecoming Queen Brenda Doeblar as Senior representatives Hannah Bucher, Krista Kissinger, Michelle Wolfe, and Donna App congratulate her.

Despite the romance and grandeur of the "South Pacific" inside, Missi Lauer and Randy Laniewski take a look — and a laugh — at the "Starry Night" outside the Holiday Inn at the 1984 Prom.

To get everyone psyched for the Shikellamy football game, all the cheerleading squads joined together for a Pep Rally held on the front lawn. Elizabeth Price, Danette Hoffman, and Cindy Burdette represent each squad in the formation of a mount.

Representing the Junior class, Christine Rinsland and her escort Doug Bickhart thoroughly enjoy the excitement of the Homecoming festivities.

Looking very cavalier in their massiveness and mud, the three musketeers Bill Burd, Jon Bailey, and Brian Bodmer are about to pump some iron after a rugged Jr. Class Play practice.

School spirit is soaring — especially for the Frogs football team the week before the big game. Tracey Brubaker has confidence in her team and will enthusiastically cheer them on until the final minute, even though the Frogs have not beat their rivals for years.

Down at the beach everyone is dancing by the waves to the sound of Chance including barefoot dance-crazed Amy Fladmark.

With the Beach Party theme of the 1984 Post Prom, there was a festive and somewhat crazy air stirring in our cafeteria. The crepe-paper sunburst on the ceiling brought a twinkle to the eyes of beach bunnies Becky Goodspeed and Lisa Frederick as they agree that any place is a great place for a Beach Party!

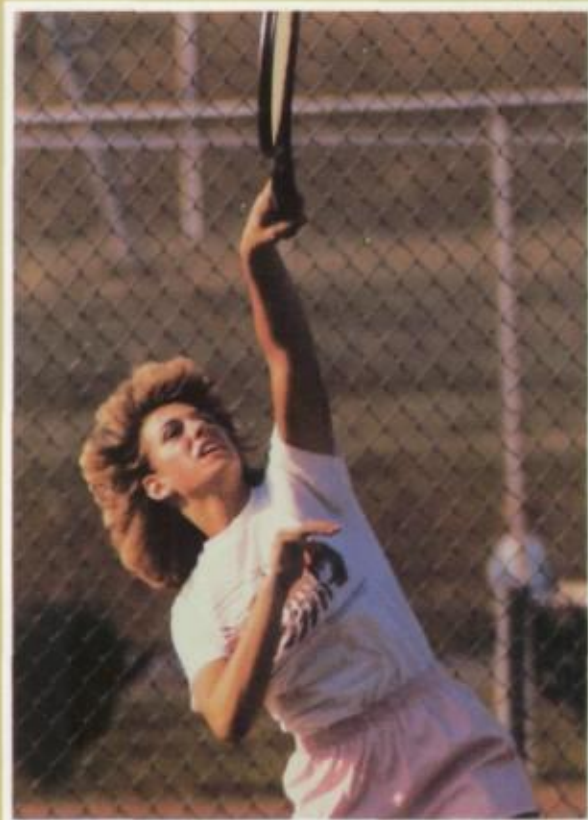

SAHS Is Bursting With New Ideas

Although nearly all students at SAHS realized a great change in the physical appearance of the building would gradually take shape, few of them realized how many other changes, too, would affect the upcoming year. Mr. Grove was quoted as saying this would be a year of change, and so it was. In early August the school board announced it would adopt a policy of discipline which the Pennsylvania State Legislature outlined. This crackdown on students' behavior reminded them that the purpose of going to school is to acquire an education. However, this is not to say that everyone became instant bookworms! The students and faculty took frequent time out to enjoy pep rallies, sports events, and plays and to celebrate old traditions such as Homecoming and the Prom in new ways. Due to the construction, the crowning ceremony of Homecoming was held on the front lawn. The pleasant fall weather helped to create a beautiful program. The halftime program was especially exciting this year. The queen led the Homecoming parade around the track in a red convertible while the other court members rode on beautiful floats depicting the four seasons. The Prom, which was formerly held at the Holiday Inn, was catered in the Middle School this year. Student council also faced some changes. A new voting procedure was added in the constitution to involve a variety of students to the activities. And the changes did not end here. SAHS also had new coaches, new sports, new classes, and a new spirit of change and growth.

The sophomore hockey players have a blast throwing confetti at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

The brilliant spring flowers from the Senior float create a festive mood for all who viewed and rode on the float.

In both practices and games, athletes must give their best efforts to reach their goals. Because of her desire to keep the girls tennis team's winning streak going, Betty Witkop practices her serve.

Smiling in anticipation of the Homecoming football game against Central Columbia, Rheta Shaffer prepares for the Pep Rally.

At the Skikellamy pep rally, Tammy Bechtel and Karen Shaffer dance to Championship, hoping that the song will be the theme of Friday's game.

Camera shy Jeff Marinucci takes time out from his concentrated studying to flash his pearly whites at the photographer.

Awaiting the opening of the football season, the Varsity football players look for the kickoff signal for the Lewisburg football game from Jeff Marinucci.

SAHS Is Bursting With Special Features

At SAHS, we have a good time! A lot of special activities keep students busy at various times during the year. We begin the celebrations each year by crowning a Homecoming Queen in October. Then the Seniors provide entertainment with their Class Play. In the winter, SAHS aides the community in the annual White Christmas celebration by crowning a King and Queen and helping with the downtown decorations. On the theatrical side, preparations are made for the Junior Class Play. An all-school musical is performed in the spring. Also in the spring juniors and seniors dress as royalty to enjoy the Prom sponsored by the junior class. For the lighter part of the evening, students dance the night away to the music of the Post Prom. Clearly the excitement and fun at SAHS comes from within — within the student body and within each individual.

SAHS Celebrates a Colorful Homecoming in the Four Seasons

SAHS Homecoming 1984, with the theme "The Four Seasons," was a celebration that will be long remembered. Due to the construction, the afternoon assembly was held on the front lawn and the softball field. This area made a perfect outdoor amphitheater. On October 5, the court and their escorts safely paraded down the hill to a beautiful stage on left field that was decorated with colorful mums. In keeping with the theme, each class was assigned a season. The senior court members represented spring, the juniors represented winter, the sophomores represented summer, and the freshmen represented fall. A pep rally, hosted by the cheerleaders, was the entertainment for the afternoon and a new addition to the program. Beautiful weather and beautiful people made this traditional event special.

Pam Miller and Yvette Conrad show pride in being selected to represent the Freshman class.

Crown bearers Abby and Seth Wilson capture the crowd's attention as they stroll down the hill.

Showing her happiness in being selected 1984 Homecoming Queen, Brenda Doeblen and her escort Brian Bodmer flash their cute smiles.

After spending months of hard work and planning for the successful Homecoming festivities, Betty Witkop can finally relax and smile proudly.

Ann Baranoski takes time out from all her hard work and planning to give Laurie McLernan a story for the newspaper.

Jody Wimer looks puzzled as she decides how to place the streamers for the court to enter through.

Although cheering in front of a large crowd can be frightening, these girls demonstrate their routines with ease and enthusiasm.

Debbie Zaborawski concentrates on remembering a new cheer as the time draws near to perform for her classmates.

Smiling and enthusiastic, Chris Rinsland shares a memorable evening with her escort, Bill Burd.

In order to ensure that the Sophomore class float is the best, Tanna Charles and Lisa Frederick make their final alterations.

Celebration Ends With Victorious Game and Special Dance

An excited queen, Brenda Doeblar, and flower bearers, Richie and Diane Rae, smile to the crowd as they lead the Homecoming parade.

By putting forth a lot of effort, Colleen Daly helped the Student Council complete the decorations for the afternoon ceremonies.

The Homecoming Halftime program was also special. After the introduction of the queen and her court, Mr. George Cravitz and flower bearers, Diane and Richie Rae, presented the queen with a half dozen red roses and each senior court member a single rose. The queen and the flower bearers led the Homecoming Parade around the football field in a red Chrysler Convertible. The court members rode on the floats that each class designed and constructed.

Approximately 300 people attended the Homecoming Dance. The Cafeteria was decorated according to the theme of the four seasons. Each corner represented a season. The band "Rio" provided dance music for this thrilling event. Refreshments were served courtesy of the Student Council. 1984 Homecoming at SAHS was a beautiful and original celebration.

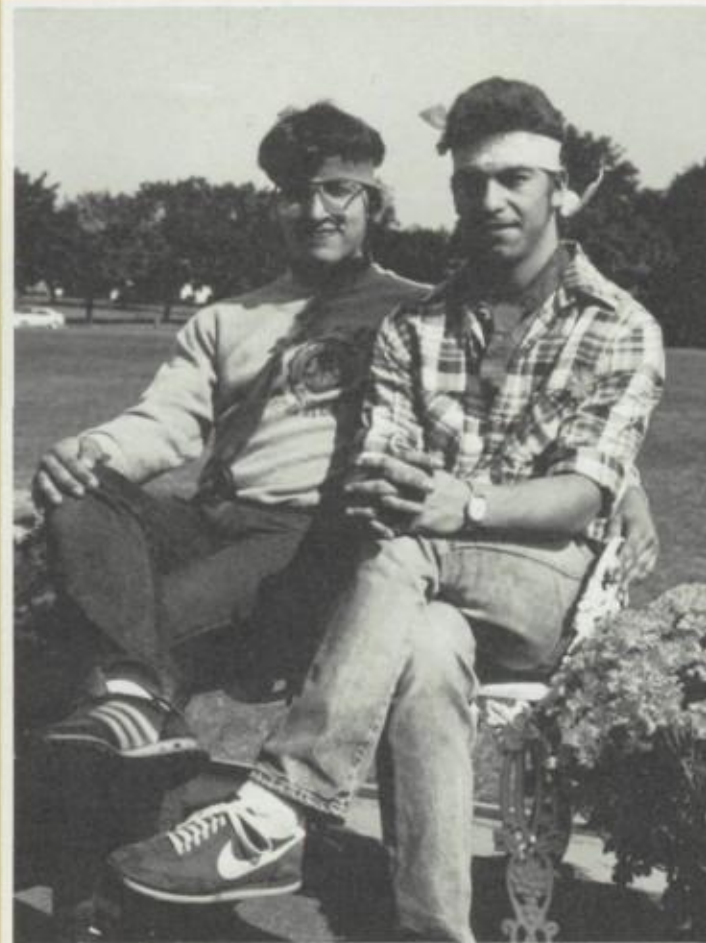

After many hours of preparation, Gina Hockenberry, escorted by Jeff Cook, looks forward to the halftime ceremony.

The Junior class will be thrilled to learn that Ron Sabotchik and Rodney Sledge are thinking about representing their class.

After several hours of practice, Bobbie Hunter and Joclyn Dimeglio are ready to show off their new routines.

A Starry Night in the South Pacific

The 1984 Junior and Senior Prom was a great success thanks to the cooperation and hard work put forth by the class of 1985. This year the theme of the Prom was A Starry Night in the South Pacific.

The 250 guests dined, danced to the excellent music of the Insiders, and continued the garter dance tradition.

The 1984 Prom Court was announced by George Cravitz. The court included Sarah Bisbee, Ross Charles, Tracey Harris, and Troy Herrold. Nikki Moll and Paul Kratzer were crowned the Queen and King.

May 12, 1984 will definitely remain on the minds of all who attended the special event.

Chele Moll and Niki Moll will be remembered by many as being the only sisters to consecutively share the title of Prom Queen. Here, Chele passes the crown on to Niki.

After the meal, these couples decide to relax and watch the other couples dance to the music of the Inciters.

Ann Baranoski and Sharon Hoot take time from their dates to show off their beautiful gowns and smiles.

After several hours of primping and preparing, these prom-goers look forward to a memorable evening.

Niki Moll and Paul Kratzer stand proudly at having been chosen to represent the senior class as the 1984 Prom Queen and King.

During the wait in line, Lynnet Fair, Michelle Edmiston, and their dates await anxiously for the evening to begin.

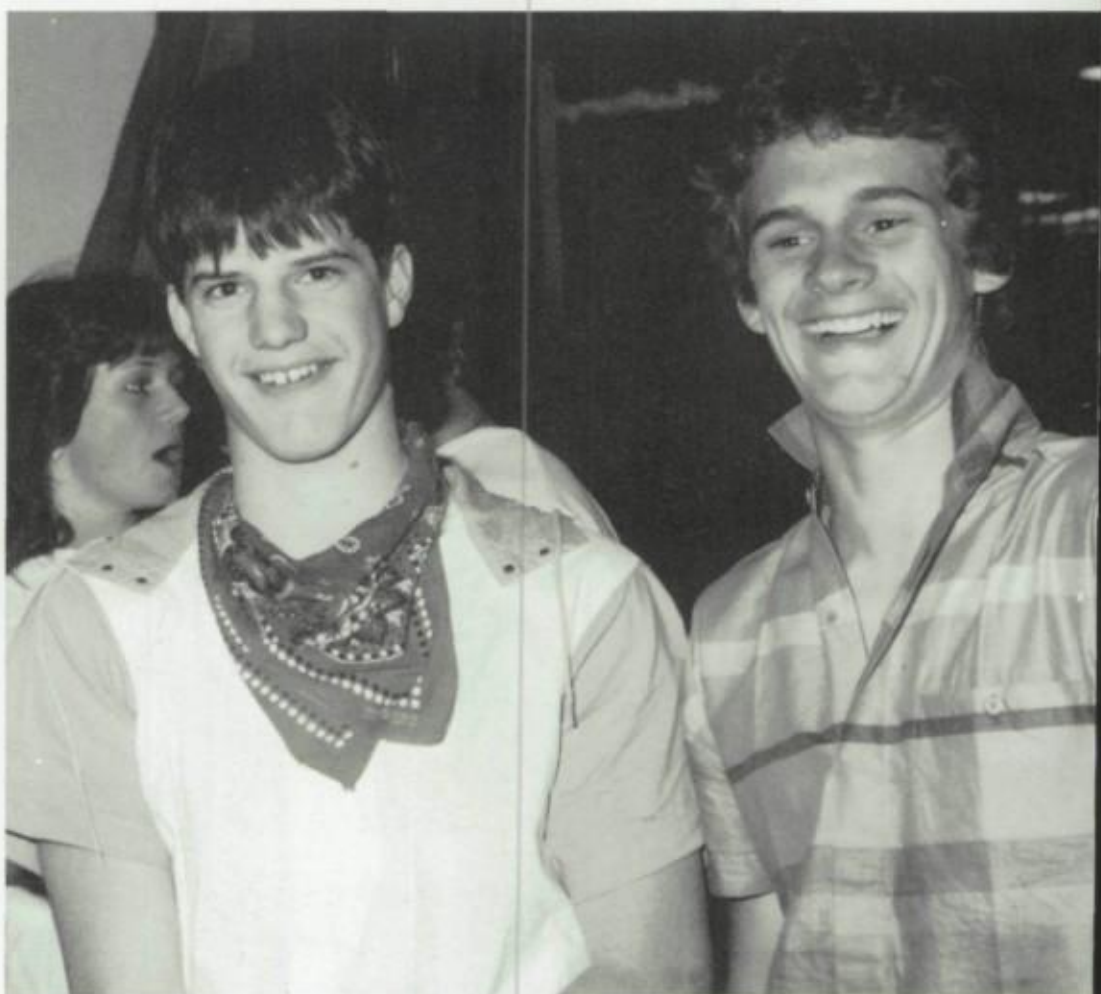

Hans Feldmann and Michelle Leitzel decide to stretch their legs as another group decides to mingle.

Matt Baronoski and Holly Calvert debate whether or not to dance as they listen to the music of Crosstown Bus.

Juniors Throw a Super Beach Party

After long hours of decorating, the high school gym and cafeteria were transformed into a hop-pin' Beach Party scene. The decorations included a gigantic sunburst, a sailboat, a grass hut, and a few palm trees. Chance provided the music for dancing. Thanks to Junior Class parents there were plenty of chaperones and an overflowing amount of food. Early Sunday morning, the Junior Class President, Anthony Munn, announced the Post-Prom royalty. The court included Brenda Doebler, Jeff Cook, Michele Wolfe, Jeff Maranuci, Queen Krista Kissinger, and King Jeff Holdren. Only pleasant memories remained on the minds of the weary post-prom goers as the morning sun rose.

Don Rowe dresses appropriately for his night on the South Pacific.

Kelly George and Steve Siegfried enjoy a moment alone.

Chris Marquette and Kathy Paige take time off from dancing to talk with each other.

Carolyn Portzline, Mark Spirk, and Greg Kahn attempt to stay awake as the 1984 Post Prom comes to an end.

All-School Musical Brings Romance and Humor to SAHS

A romantic island in the South Pacific beleaguered with the problems of World War II becomes the setting for the very successful all-school musical South Pacific by Rodgers and Hammerstein. On this island invaded by United States Military Personnel, Nellie Forbush and Emile de Becque, portrayed by Emily Moore and Todd Miller, find music and romance. Crazy marines and bubbly Navy ensigns add an air of mischief and fun to the plot. Throughout the story it is proven that love conquers all.

Production numbers on a large scale, palm trees, and talented cast members combine to provide an entertaining evening for all who sailed back in time to the South Pacific.

Come on, Emily, show a little affection towards this love-struck man.

Sue Cook tries hard to keep her mind on the pre-show artwork.

Aaron, Andy, Jason, and Bill use their strong vocal chords to get a point across to Bloody Mary.

Missi Lauer better try a new sales traffic before these brutes make confetti out of her grass skirt.

The cast of "South Pacific:" First Row: T. Miller, E. Moore, T. Lash, T. Masters, D. Dreese, A. Krouse, A. Potter, L. Reichenbach, D. Beaver, T. Kelly, J. Praul, C. Rinsland, J. Feldmann, G. Sierer, L. Frederick. 2nd Row: M. Lauer, T. Strawser, L. Keister, K. Shaffer, S. Hoot, D. Hilbert, A. Harrison, G. Jareski, J. Sholley, K. Hogan, A. Attkison, J. Sholley, S. Cook, K. Trout, A. Krueger, M. Hackenburg, M. Parker, M. Pamental.

Jason, along with the other sailors, dream about the forbidden nurses.

Todd is serenaded by this lovely nurse, Emily.

Island Nurses, Diane Pauling, Lisa Frederick, and Kelly Rudnitsky help Nellie sing about her wonderful guy.

In a song to her nurses, Emily Moore gives the audience her rendition of getting over a broken heart.

After meeting head nurse Emily Moore, Doug Beaver, along with the other sailors, is anxiously awaiting the introduction of the other ensigns.

Lieutenant Mark Parker falls in love with native girl, Tracee Kelly, while stationed on the island.

South Pacific Involves a Lot of Hard Work

"South Pacific" had one of the largest casts ever. A larger cast goes hand in hand with longer, harder rehearsals, but also creates inspiring friendships and long lasting memories.

Although a lot of work was done by the cast, one cannot forget the work and long hours contributed by the directors George Cravitz and Fred Hooper, the choreographer, Neal Mayer, and the business manager Robert Whitmoyer. All these individuals provided their talent and knowledge to the success of the all-school musical.

Missy Lauer, as Bloody Mary, sings to the sailors about the island paradise of Bali Hai.

The Ensigns help Emily Moore "Wash that man right out of her hair."

Give it up Missy! When they passed out brains, these girls thought they said trains, and so they went on vacation.

No, Jeff, sweat pants are worn on your legs.

Bill looks for sympathy as he tells Betty and Lauren his sob story.

Mike Wiley has a gut feeling that his team isn't fairing too well — he's right!

By the look on Amanda's face, Julie has opened her mouth one too many times.

Rehearsal Ends Curtain Goes Up

The Junior Class Play, They Run in Our Family, was a tremendous success due to the outstanding casting of advisors Mr. Heilman and Mrs. Rowe. Todd Miller, Missi Lauer, Betty Witkop, and Lauren McLearnen portrayed major roles.

The play centers around a family which is deeply involved in sports. The father, who is also the coach of every sport at the high school, risks the chance of losing his job if his football team doesn't win Friday night's game.

The plot thickens when a boy selling brush supplies is mistaken as a spy for the other football team. One thing leads to another and soon the coach, his son and their star player are all unable to attend the game. One of the coach's daughters secretly poses as her brother on the team and saves the game and her dad's job. The play ends with everyone excited over the victory and content to live with such a sports-minded family.

Betty puts a halt to Todd's training session.

Tracey displays her enthusiasm at the prospect of being fixed up with a blind date.

"Rock Hop" Portrays Selinsgrove- Shikellamy Type Rivalry

The class of 1985's senior class play was a 50's musical which was full of life and comedy. The plot of Rock Hop involved the combination of two rival schools, East and West Rockton. The East Rockton greasers and the West Rockton jocks have hated one another since birth, and now the "Board of Education" has decided to consolidate the two schools into one school, located on Smedley's Island, better known as "The Rock"!

Leading roles in the comedy were Tommy, played by Todd Miller; Ellen Sue, played by Missi Lauer; Spud, played by John Norton; Mickey, played by Bill Burd; Juanita, played by Tammy Bechtel; Miss Smith, played by Betty Witkop; and none other than Skinny Chessman himself, played by Jeff Holdren.

Tommy, a neutral from North Rockton, and Ellen Sue, and a big shot from West Rockton, try to cool down the rivalry by holding a dance at the new school on the Rock. Their basis for uniting the two schools is giving them a common bond to share, their love for Skinny Chessman. The biggest rock star since Elvis Presley is just too hard to resist, and everyone shows at "the Hop." However, Spud, Mickey, and Juanita are out to sabotage the Hop. Spud, star athlete of West Rockton, has just been dumped by his girl, Ellen Sue, and he decides to join forces with the top greaser and greaserette from East Rockton, Mickey and Juanita. Although they cause some heavy trouble, their plan does not work, and the great Skinny Chessman succeeds in uniting the two schools.

All of Julie Kleinbauer's fantasies were crushed when she learned the true identity of Skinny Chessman.

Rodney Hoke makes sure John Norton and Bill Burd aren't frozen to death after falling in the rock river.

Krista Kissinger goes wild at having the opportunity to see Skinny Chessman.

Skinny Chessman is bigger than Chubby Checker and Fats Domino.

In his attempts to save the Rock Hop, Todd Miller realizes things aren't what they used to be.

To save the dance, Todd Miller, with the help of Missy Lauer, will try to impersonate Skinny Chessman.

The tough and mean crew of Tammy Bechtel, John Norton, and Bill Burd plots to ruin the rock hop.

Tommy better find Skinny Chessman before Karen Shaffer and Danette Hoffman explode.

Even though their plans were to ruin the dance, Tammy Bechtel and Bill Burd realize that it is more fun to join in the dancing.

Jeff Holdren tries to calm Betty Witkop's fears of not having enough chaperones for the dance.

Danette Hoffman is not going to listen to John Norton's reasoning of why not to go to the dance to see Skinny Chessman.

Missi Lauer tries to explain to Todd Miller why East Rockton has been at West Rockton's throats for years.

The girls go crazy as Skinny Chessman enters the gymnasium.

Senior Class "Spins 'Round and 'Round at the Real Rock Hop"

A cast and chorus of over thirty seniors developed "Rock Hop" into a funny and extremely entertaining show. Directors George Cravitz and Dave Laurer gave endless hours of their time to perfect this enjoyable show. Music Director Fred Hooper also greatly contributed to the play's success.

Along with the seven lead roles, the minor characters also gave it their all to make the musical the best it could be.

The long rehearsals that all of the cast went through really did pay off in the long run. The tedious, nerve racking process of perfecting blocking, lighting, lines, and musical numbers was far outweighed by the enjoyment that the two final shows provided for both the cast and audience. This year's senior class play should definitely be remembered for many years to come as one of the best shows ever.

It is a sad time now as Tammy Savidge and Chris Nylund realize they must go to school on the rock.

During their dedication song, Amy Fladmark and Hazel Wheaton pledge their loyalty to Skinny Chessman.

As head of East Rockton, Bill Burd refuses to listen to any talk of peace between East and West Rockton.

By the look on Tammy Bechtel's face, she's happy she made it to the dance.

Hoping that Skinny Chessman will return to her, Betty Witkop sings about her true love.

Crowning Highlights Morning

The crowning of the 1984 White Christmas Queen and King seemed to be the highlight of the morning festivities. Soon after the court was introduced, last year's queen and king, Kelly Herrold and Troy Herrold, crowned Colleen Daly and Jeff Holdren as the 1984 White Christmas royalty. Other senior court members included Deb Kratzer, Chris Nylund, Betty Witkop, Dave Housley, Jeff Marinucci, and Matt Nace. The juniors were represented by Rheta Shaffer, Stacy Snyder, Rob Cook, and Joe McDonald. Sophomore class representatives were Martha Kleinbauer and Jim Nylund, and the freshmen class was represented by Heather Jones and Mike Stout.

The White Christmas dance was held on December 21st. After school on Friday, students decorated the cafeteria with some of the decorations that were used earlier that week for the assembly in order to create a Christmas atmosphere. Refreshments were served and the music was provided by Killer Sound System.

Many of the Sophomore girls were enchanted by the "charm" of one of the morning assembly performers in the group Recreation.

New White Christmas Assembly Produces an Exciting Program

This year, the Student Council at SAHS took a few new ideas, added them to the traditional White Christmas assembly, and produced a beautiful, exciting program. One new idea introduced was tea length gowns for the female court members. These dresses gave the procession a modern look. Simple decorations were another change. A few Christmas trees, some candy canes, and a crepe paper backdrop transformed the gym into a winter wonderland. Professional entertainment was the final addition to the program. Recreation, a singing group from Susquehanna University, performed pop, country, 50's, and Christmas songs for the morning assembly.

The DAR award is open to boys and girls in the senior classes of all accredited public and private high schools in the state of Pennsylvania. Chosen by the faculty and seniors as the young person who possessed outstanding qualities of service, dependability, leadership, and patriotism, Betty Witkop was the recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award during the 1984-1985 School year.

During the 1984-1985 school year, four foreign exchange students were added to the student body. Christina Kokott, a member of the Junior Class, came here from Germany. Participating in the Senior Class Andrés Paez came from Ecuador, while Tina-Suzanna Mustakangas and Elizabeth Moller came here from Sweden. We hope that they will have made several special memories and friends on their return home.

While We Were Seniors

Outstanding international events during the 1984-85 year included the conviction of Polish secret police for the death of a Polish priest, the assassination of Indira Ghandi and there was a loss of control of the OPEC Cartel. In addition, the U.S. found out about 5 bombs carried in German soldiers' backpacks, there was the launching of the first military spy satellite and the dollar was at $\frac{1}{2}$ all time high. A second baby, Henry, was born to Princess Di and Prince Charles, while the 1984 Summer Olympics took place in Los Angeles, California, with several countries boycotting the games. Also, there was a widespread famine in Ethiopia, the arms control talk resumed and the English pound hit an all-time low against the dollar. Lastly, Moscow held their own games, there was a Russian missile landing in Finland, and there was the Persian Gulf War.

On the National scene, the U.S. saw the recovery of the economy as the inflation decreased. There was the first nomination of a woman for a national office. There was a plight on the farmers as one out of three went bankrupt, and the 2nd mechanical heart patient was William Schraeder. The first Negro Miss America, Vanessa Williams, was asked to give up her crown due to controversial photos in Penthouse, restorations began on the Statue of Liberty, and the prime rate continued to fall. Also, Baby Fae lived for a short time on a baboon heart and several people were shot in a McDonald's massacre. In the Superbowl, the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Miami Dolphins, Doug Flutie received the Heisman Trophy, and Ronald Reagan was re-elected to his second term of office.

Prominent on the local scene was a final approval for the new bridge between Sunbury and the traffic circle, there was an extension on the airport runway and Seibert Hall at Susquehanna University was rebuilt. In addition, Rt. 11 and 15 was dedicated the Charles Attig Memorial Highway and classes continued at Selinsgrove Area High School as construction workers labored to complete construction of the library wing and other renovations.

New Responsibility Bursts Upon Seniors

We seniors here at SAHS certainly have many new things to celebrate with each coming week. Of course, we were convinced we were officially seniors the second the Class of '84 took off at the end of May last year and that very same week we voted for Senior class officers. So besides a new official title, we also got a new class president. This new title immediately posed new responsibilities on us as leaders. We were expected to lead sports team and clubs and provide a good example for all the underclassmen to follow.

Seniors also have many new decisions to make. Some of them are merely little things, like should I get a new hairstyle to make me look older? And some of them are pretty important, like is there any possible way I can drop Sociology 8th period so I can get Senior release?!!! Seniors are also faced with new questions about their future. Many of us tried to decide what businesses we would apply to after graduation. Other Seniors struggled over college applications and spent endless hours checking their mailboxes for letters of acceptance. Other students decided to prepare for their future this year and went to Vo-Tech.

Although we all have different ideas about what our futures will be like, at the present time we all are striving for one thing — graduation! We all have the intense desire to say "I'm done. After thirteen years, I'm finally done." But this is not the only thing we have in common. We all share a fear of saying good-bye to SAHS, and for some of us, good-bye to Selinsgrove. But none of us should dwell on this anxiety, because this is our year. 1985 has finally come, and we are finally Seniors!

During the year, Seniors have many opportunities to participate in activities and become closer friends. Like many other seniors, Timmy Bechtel and John Norton went out for the Senior class play. Although the cast acted as rivals, they all had a super time and became closer friends in the process.

Graduation Day

As the days go on and the end draws near,
We must say goodbye to another year.
January, February, March, April, May
Soon it will be Graduation Day.
As we look back upon our younger years,
We begin reminiscing our joys through our tears.
The first field trip we made in third grade,
The joys of being in the homecoming parade.
The day we were told our best friend was moving away,
The times no one listened to what we had to say.
The tears of going on our first date,
Oh but after it was over — wasn't it great?
Remember all the sporting events we went to and won,
and how we cheered we're number one.
But like always good things must come to an end,
Now all that's left is what the future will send,
And forever to let our spirits fly,
Goodbye, CLASS OF "85," Goodbye!!!

... being someone else for the class play comes naturally.

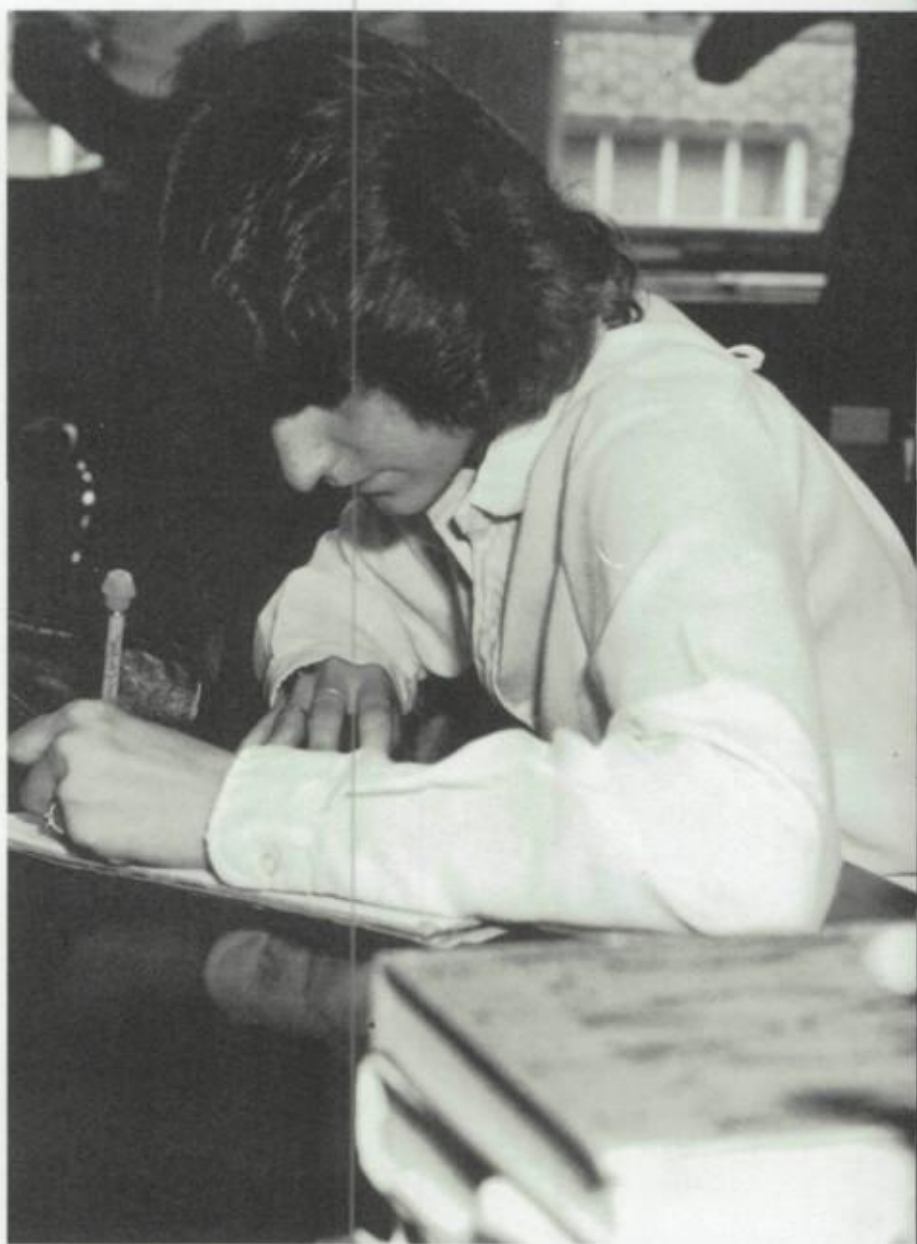

You Know You Have Senioritis When ...

Some people experience symptoms of severe boredom, falling asleep in class and the inability to complete a homework assignment while others get migranes, and the dreaded feelings of "I hope school is delayed tomorrow!" and "Is it three o'clock yet?" For all underclassmen pondering the question of "What is this awful disease?", the answer is quite easy. It is known to all seniors as the very contagious sickness called "Senioritis." Although some underclassmen feel that they too experience senioritis, the experts on the disease (all seniors) know that the effects are only felt by members of the senior class.

With many years of research, the medical experts have come up with only one cure for senioritis. They decided to have a ceremony with special gowns where each member receives a piece of paper meaning "you're done!" Most people refer to this event as Graduation. At the end of the ceremony, severe Senioritis patients must then participate in some type of celebration.

To all people who think they can avoid this sickness — good luck! Few people escape the hazardous symptoms of Senioritis.

You know you have Senioritis when ... you have learned to take notes on something that the teacher has unmistakably repeated twenty times,

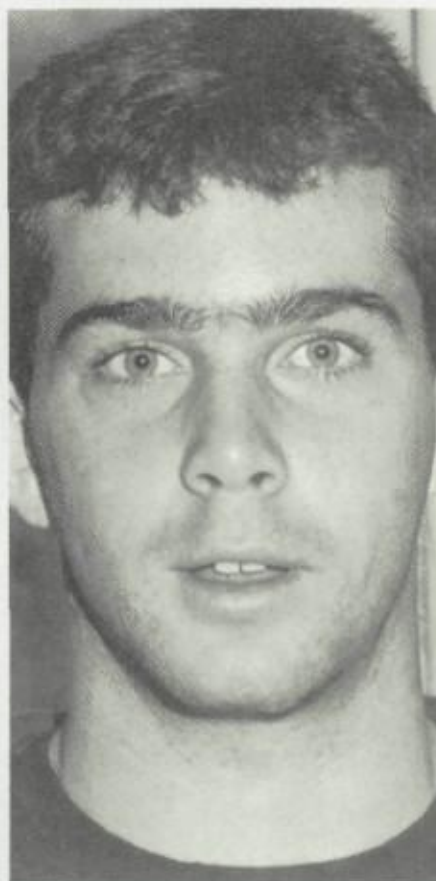

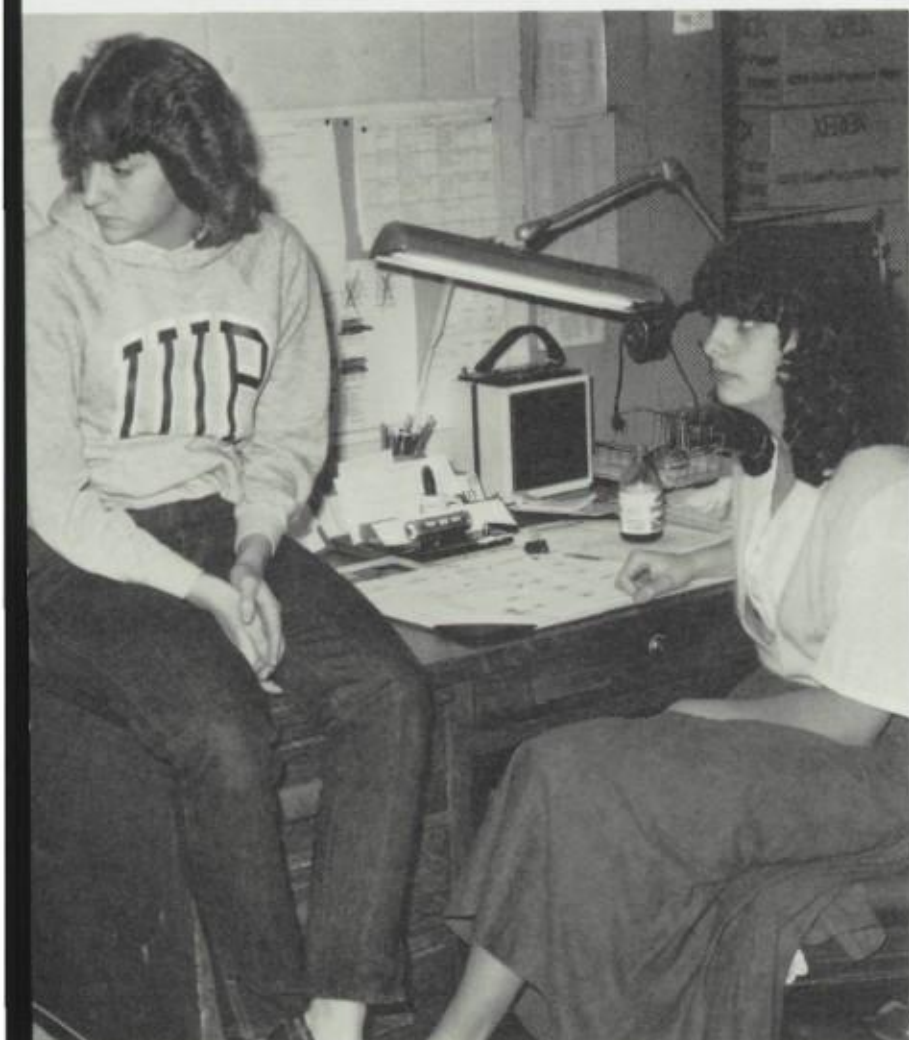

... hearing that so-and-so went back with so-and-so, and so-and-so and so-and-so got back together really doesn't thrill you any more.

... classes become a time to party and have a good time!

... having your picture taken for the yearbook is an everyday occurrence.

... you can't think of any more obscene gestures for the photographer, so you smile!

. you find the need to "escape" from it all and hide in the custodians closet.

SAHS Is Always Bursting With New Fun in Sports

Here at SAHS, having fun with sports is a year 'round event. Our fall sports teams begin conditioning in July and regular practices start in August. The football team and field hockey team sweat it out in the hot sun running, lifting, drilling, and arguing over who is working the hardest while watching the cross country team charge up the pool hill. For the first time at SAHS, the cross country team could look down from the top of the hill to see the newly formed soccer team hard at work with the beginning of cold weather and the end of fall sports, the athletes take their sports indoors. The wrestlers head for the matroom, the girls' and boys' basketball teams share the gym, and the bowling team frequents the Super Bowl 522.

Concluding a year in sports, the runners once again hit the road, this time preparing for a gruelling track season. The boys' baseball team practices their skill in the upper field while the girls' softball team shapes up in lower playing field. And the boys' tennis team takes over the tennis courts.

Again this year, SAHS produced many successful teams. In 1984, the boys' track team once again captured the District IV AAA Championship. The field hockey team also earned that honor and football team took the conference Championship. In 1985, the Seals sent both super basketball teams to the District play-offs and many fine wrestlers to the District IV Tournament.

Accepting a handoff from Betty Witkop, Hannah Bucher sprints for the finish line.

Varsity Football Season Bursting With Excitement

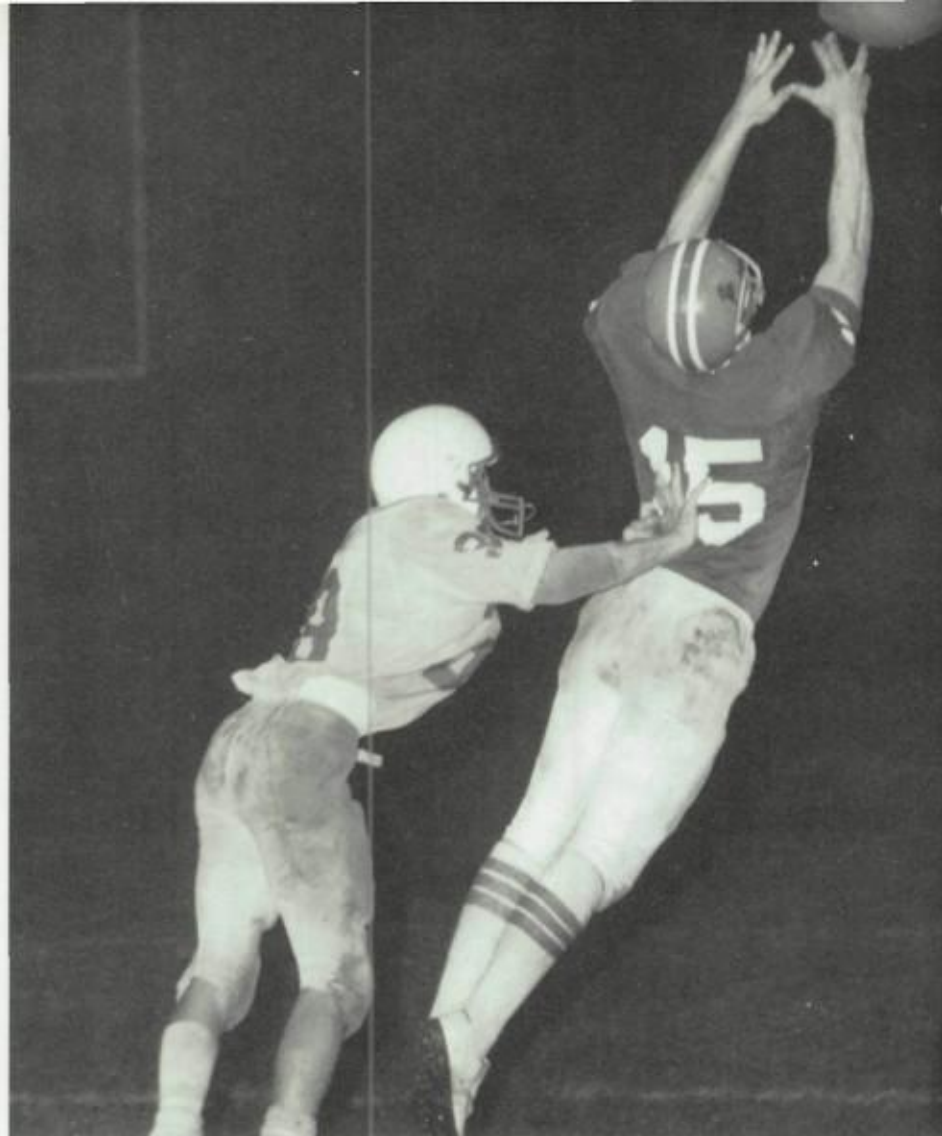

The Seal's varsity football team finished off it's season with a dominating defeat over Danville to give themselves the respectable record of six wins, one tie, and three losses. Captains Paul Felker, Matt Nace, and Dave Zaborowski provided the leadership needed to develop an enthusiastic team spirit. This super attitude was displayed in nearly every game by players who refused to quit and gave their maximum effort until the clock ticked off the last second of the fourth quarter. Head Coach Bill Scott felt that the defeat of Shamokin and the revenge against Bloomsburg were the two most exciting games of the season. Although the team suffered on of it's three losses to Williamsport, that game played in the freezing cold of November also got the adrenaline flowing in players and spectators alike. The 1984 Varsity football season certainly proved to be bursti .g with excitement in all aspects.

Trying to make a spectacular catch, Matt Nace is hastled by the opponent.

After a gain of considerable yardage, the Seals' running back is tackled with incredible force.

Escaping the most feared play by a quarterback (the sack), Ron Olson scrambles down the field.

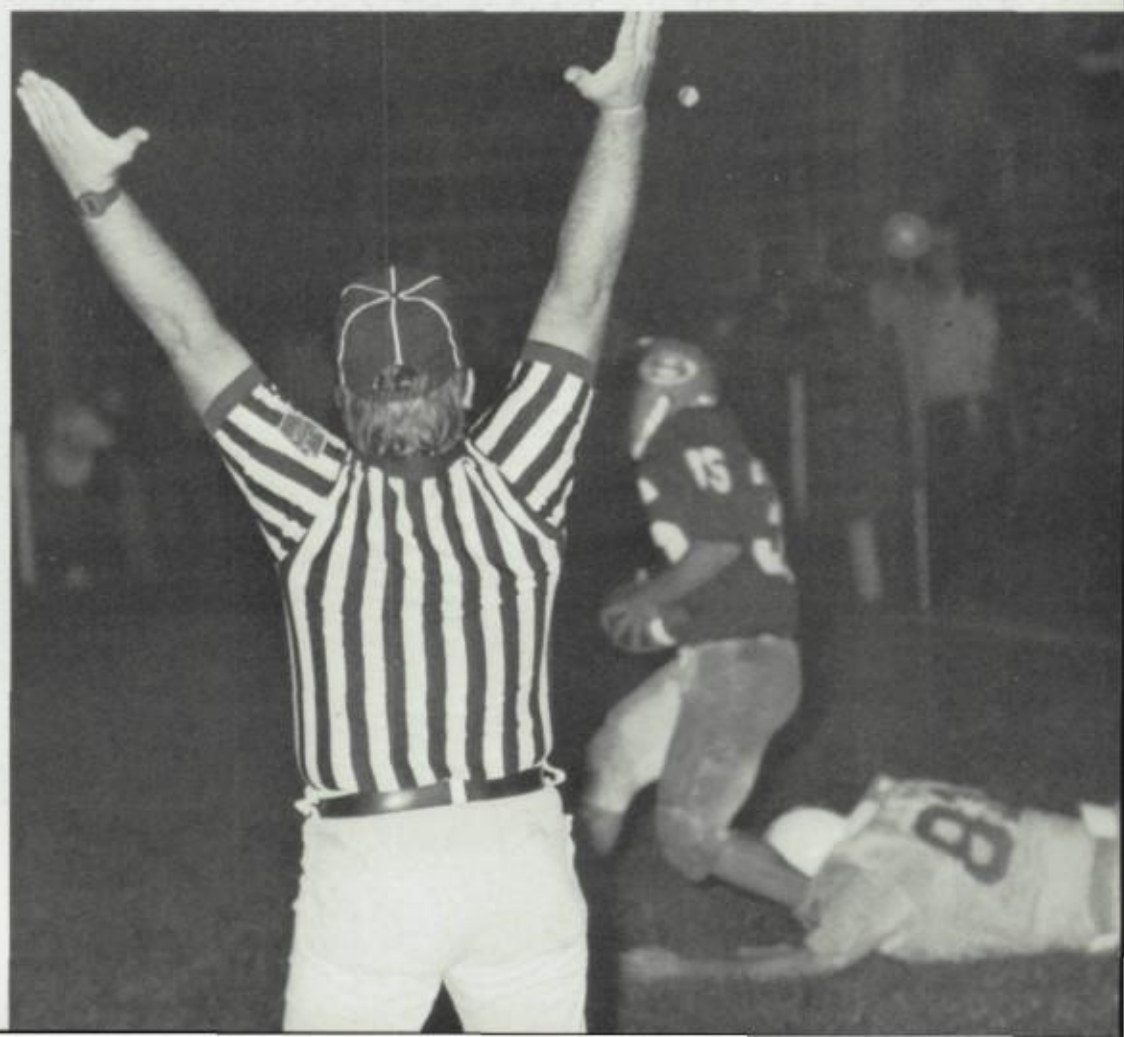

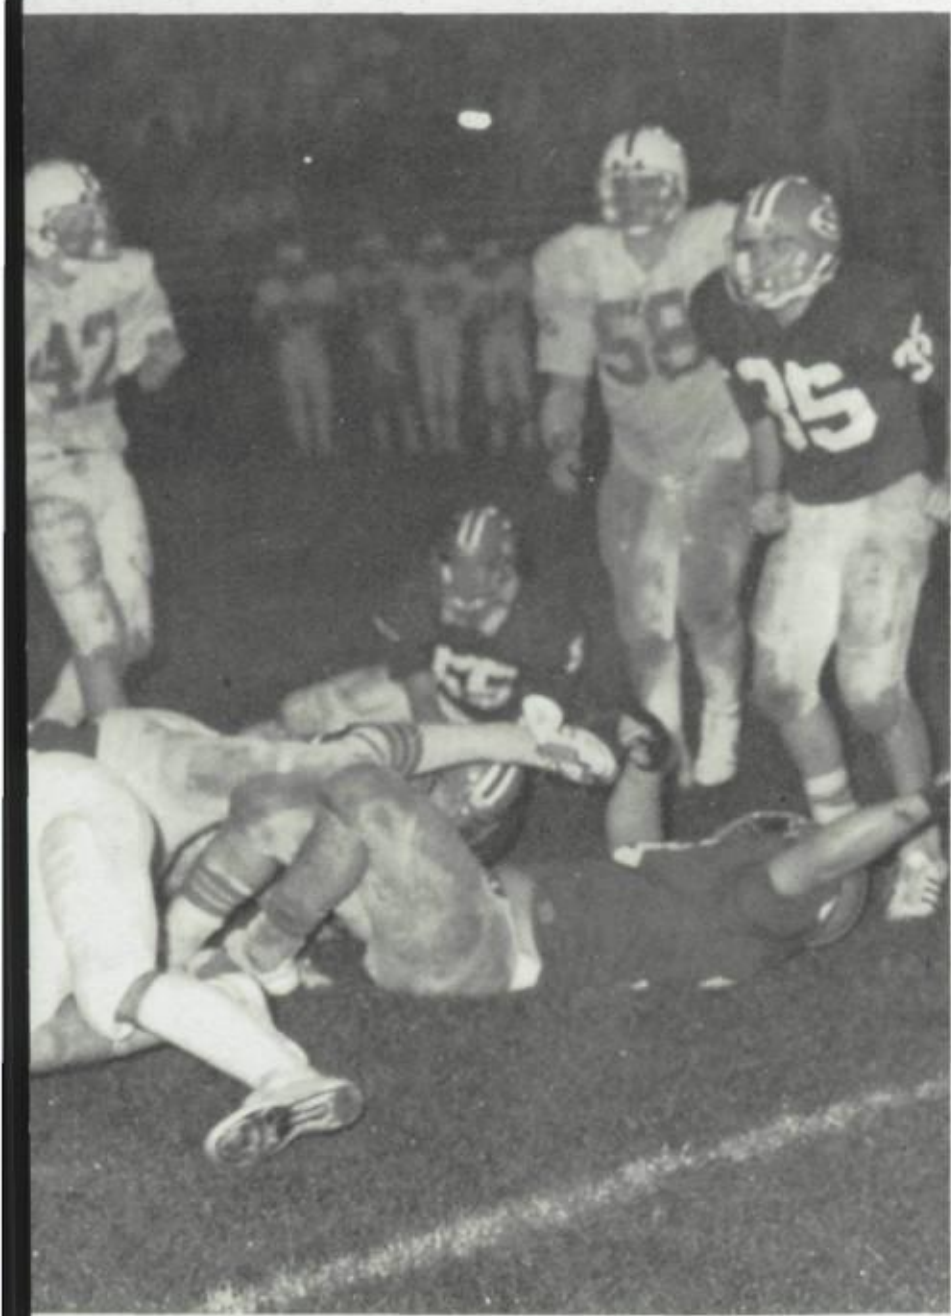

Before a rigorous workout, Matt Ludwig takes time to stretch out.

As Matt Ludwig scores on the run, the referee throws his arms in the air to signal a touchdown.

JV Football Bursts With Dedicated Enthusiasm

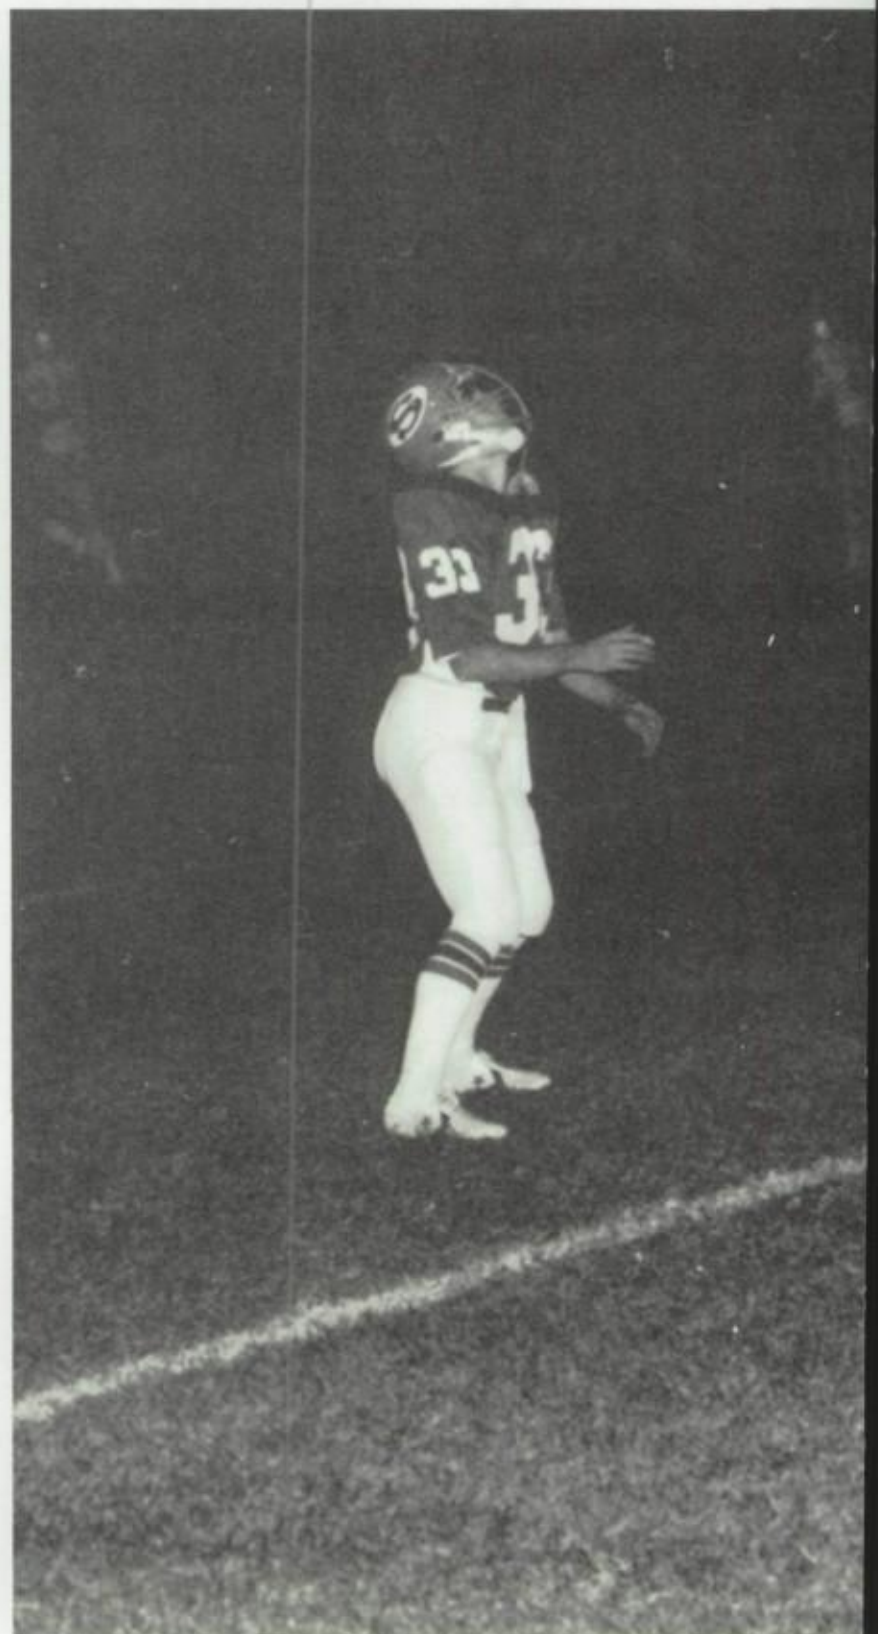

The Seals' 1984 Junior Varsity football team displayed outstanding effort and dedicated enthusiasm to finish their winning season with a super record of 6-2. The JV Football squad not only played well within the squad, but also practiced with grueling determination with the Varsity squad to help them be the best they possibly could be. The positive attitude displayed by these young players is a good sign of yet another great Seals Football team next season.

As he accidentally fumbles the ball, Matt Ludwig quickly recovers it and avoids a Seal's turnover.

Facing his eyes directly on the ball, Joe McDonald waits for the kick patiently and will attempt to run it back for a touchdown.

1985 Varsity Football Captains — Matt Nace, Paul Felker, Dave Zaborowski.

As Mike Reyda attempts to top his opponent, his teammates rush over and assist in the tackle.

Taking his position in the defensive line, Jeff Marinucci thinks of only one thing — getting the ball back into the Seal's possession.

The 1984 Seals defense definitely played an important part in the success of this year's football squad. Chris Marquette will not let his opponent gain anymore yardage.

1984 Varsity Football Coaches — Kneeling: Dave Lauer, Dave Hess. Standing: Bill Swartzlander, Bill Scott, Mark Bricker.

After playing a very aggressive game, Matt Nace awaits the last tick of the clock.

Fall Cheerleaders Excel

Co-Captains Krista Kissinger and Michele Wolfe led this year's twelve member, varsity fall cheerleading squad through a spirited season.

These girls practiced all through the summer to develop their super squad. While attending Pine Forest Cheerleading Camp in August, the Selinsgrove squad was selected to participate in the National Cheerleaders Association's Super-Star competition. The NCA staff invited only the top six squads from 49 squads involved to participate in this competition on the final day of camp. Upon evaluation each night, the girls received the highest ribbon possible, the blue, Superior Ribbon. The squad also received a spirit-stick for their enthusiasm every night, and won a spirit stick on the final day to bring back for the Seals' trophy case.

The varsity squad used new chants, cheers, and routines learned at camp to cheer the football team through their winning season. The girls also choreographed their own routine to perform before home games to boost Seal fans spirit. Much credit goes to Mrs. Jerilyn Ludwig, Mrs. Susan Anderson, and Mrs. Celia Lendh who advise both the varsity and junior varsity squads.

The junior varsity squad had many new members and a lot of enthusiasm to lead them through their season. Captains were juniors Cyndi Burdett and Michele Cumberland.

The cheerleaders' spirits never get low, even after a down pour of rain. Hannah Bucher and Tammy Bechtel can even find time for a friendly smile during a rainy football game.

The cheerleaders are not the only ones who enjoy cheering for our football squads. A somewhat wet Chase Kasper looks in at the game.

Girl's Tennis Team Achieves a Winning Season

The 1984 Girl's Tennis Team had another season to be proud of, finishing with an outstanding record of 10-0. Coached by David McCarty, the team found the hard practice and great effort to pay off. Coming from behind, the team beat Danville 3-2 in one of their most memorable matches.

Going on to Districts, Nancy Kauffman finished second and Betty Witkop finished third. Other outstanding members of the team were Jackie Kline, Angie Wolf and Sue Machlan. For the second year in a row, the team won the Susquehanna Valley Conference award.

Junior Nancy Kauffman follows through after her backhand shot while she watches to see where the ball will drop.

Boy's Tennis Team Gives It Their All

Even though they are a young team, the Selinsgrove Area High School Boy's Tennis team has more talent than many of their opponents, whose team members even have more experience. This year's team consisted of nineteen players, who all contributed to the team's success. The number one spot was shared by Chase Kasper and John Norton. Other prominent players include Matt Ludwig, Jeff Mason, Will Prather, Kent Romppala, AJ Sassaman, and Pate Summers. Many of the younger team members showed a great deal of potential for the coming years. Other highlights of the season included Autumn Swisher and John Norton recapturing their District Mixed Doubles title and Chase Kasper advancing to the State Tournament. The team closed the season with a record of 10-3.

New Coach Gives Seals' Cross-Country a Spark of Enthusiasm

Under the direction of first year Coach John Wilson and the leadership of captains Doug Yocum, Colleen Daly, and Tammy Masters, the boys and girls' Cross Country teams showed unending determination and diligence in the face of difficulty.

Training on the 3.1 mile course in sometimes cold, damp weather, the team showed their undiminished team spirit every day.

With outstanding team members, including Colleen Daly, Lisa Dickinson, Tammy Masters, Todd Hershey, Doug Yocum and Hans Feldmann, the boys' and girls' Cross Country teams faced opponents from Shikellamy, Williamsport and Jersey Shore.

Although the season was tough, the 1984 Cross country teams' enthusiasm and hard work proved they were not just competitors but also winners.

The 1984 Golf Team Brought Forth a Winning Season

The 1984 Selinsgrove Area High School Golf Team finished the season with an 8-2 record. Coached by Chester Rowe, the team consisted of skillful members who enjoyed the competition this sport entailed. Although there were tough opponents, such as Danville and South Williamsport, the golf team excelled in their first match with Milton in which a playoff was called.

John Martina, a Junior, was chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player and Scott Swisher, a Freshman, was named the Most Improved. Those who finished the season as Seniors were Jon Bailey, Chris Bailey, Don Wyand, and Don Weirick. John Martina also received the Outstanding Golfer's Awards.

With nine members back next year, Coach Rowe looks forward to a great season for the golf team in 1985.

Girl's Field Hockey Team Continues Tradition of Excellence

Continuing a tradition of excellence — even under the direction of a new coach — the 1984 Varsity Girl's Field Hockey team finished the season with an outstanding record of 11-4-1, with three of the four losses occurring at the very start of the season. A new and enthusiastic Coach Kathy Leitzel commented, "Although the girls got off to a slow start, they really got their act together and were undefeated until their last game against Cresswood." Cresswood, a team that eventually earned 3rd place in State competition, defeated the lady Seals in their first Regional playoff game. The Seals team earned their ticket to the Regional playoffs by defeating Berwick 2-1 to once again capture the District VI AAA Championship title. Coach Leitzel and her team members agree that their game against Lewisburg was the most exciting game of the season. The two teams battled it out to a 0-0 tie, a very respectable score considering Lewisburg won the District IV AA Championship and played in state competition for the first time.

New Sport Is Enthusiastically Supported

A new sport joined the fall sports schedule in 1984 — soccer. Coached by Steven Stephen, the soccer team started its first year full of enthusiasm. Through tough practices and grueling games, the team gained experience and momentum.

Though introduced to Selinsgrove High School for the first time, soccer had an amazing turnout of thirty-six students for the team. Among these thirty-six were twelve starting players: John Gallagher, Richie Hackenburg, Jim Handlan, Matt Kerstetter, Jeff Keister, Matt Pamental, Andy Potter, Kevin Spigelmyer, Mark Spirk, Rob Turk, Mike Wiley, and Trevor Williams.

Due to team enthusiasm and interest in the sport shown this year, it is clear that soccer will remain on the fall sports schedule in future years.

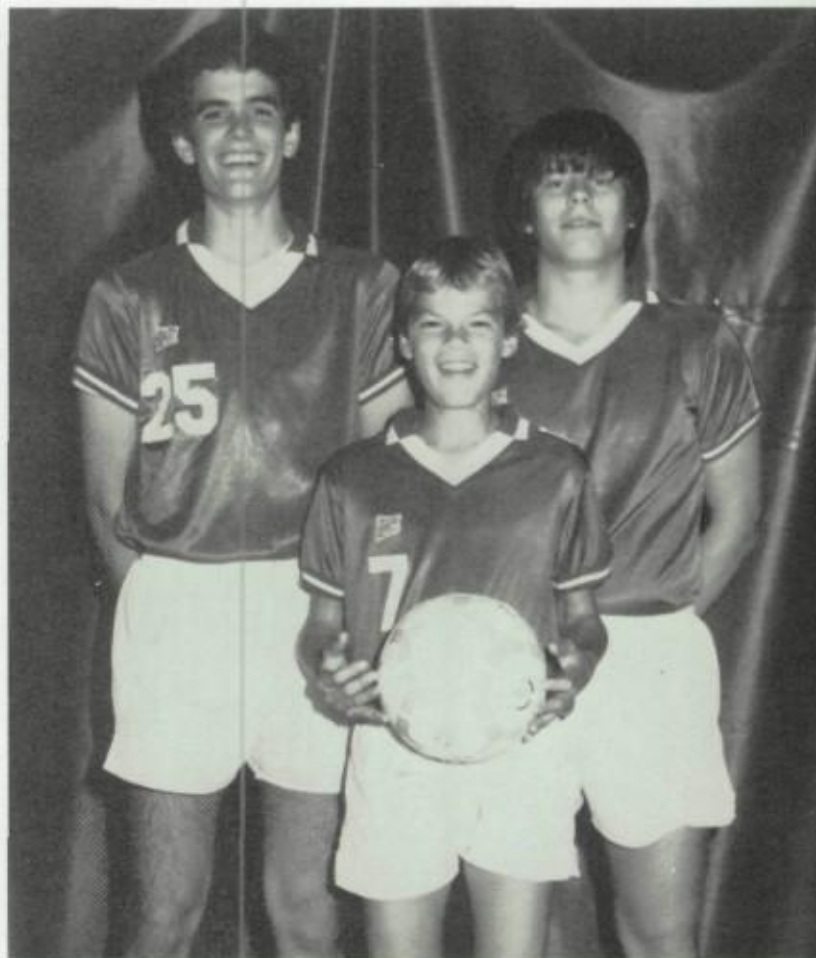

Playing teams from such places as Lewisburg, West Snyder, Middleburg, and Mifflinburg, the team had an eventful year. During the second Lewisburg game, the SAHS soccer team defeated a top team. The soccer team also tied the Middleburg team although they were down a player.

Swimming, Not Only a Leisure Activity, But One With Great Competition.

Two students here at SAHS are involved in a winter sport most of us enjoy as a summer leisure time activity. The students are Senior Mike Wiley and sophomore Eric Britton and their sport is swimming. These two young men practice at the Sunbury YMCA and compete for the 15 and over boys part of that team, a group that tied for the league Championship in the 1984-85 season. The YMCA team as a whole earned a super record of 4-1. The team competes against other YMCA teams from Williamsport, Bellfonte, Jersey Shore, Bloomsburg, and Lock Haven.

What many students may not realize is that Mike and Eric also represent Selinsgrove Area High School in District IV PIAA competition. Although Mike and Eric are our only contestants, their competition comes from full teams from schools like Athens, Berwick, Central Columbia, Jersey Shore, Mount Carmel, Shikellamy, Towanda, and Williamsport. Several other schools are also sending competitors in various events but do not have full teams. Mike will compete in the 50 yard Freestyle and 100 Freestyle events at Districts and Eric will compete in the 200 Freestyle and 100 Freestyle events. Mike also enjoys swimming the 200 individual medley for the YMCA whereas Eric also competes in the 500 Freestyle event. The District Swim meet is held in Philadelphia. Mike will also be swimming in the National meet held in Orlando, Florida from April 14 to April 21. Mike commented that he and Eric both enjoy the individuality of competitive swimming. Mike says it is a lot of extra work "because I have to make it on my own" without the support of teammates or peers. But as Mike's sisters argue over who is his biggest fan, there is no question that he and Eric do get support from somewhere!

Using steady, even strokes, Mike Wiley maintains his lead.

Selinsgrove Wrestlers Put Forth Great Effort

The 1984-1985 Selinsgrove Seals wrestling squads have been pushed to their limits in order to succeed this season. Due to the loss of several good seniors, these relatively young and inexperienced squads have had to work hard to reach their goals.

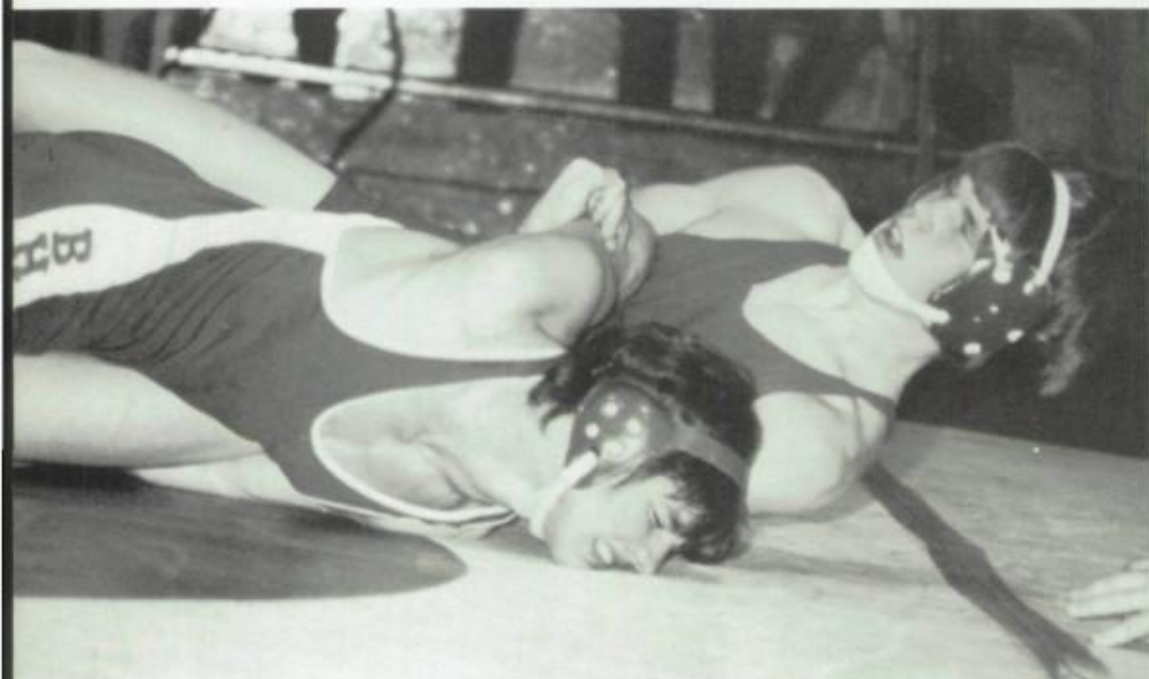

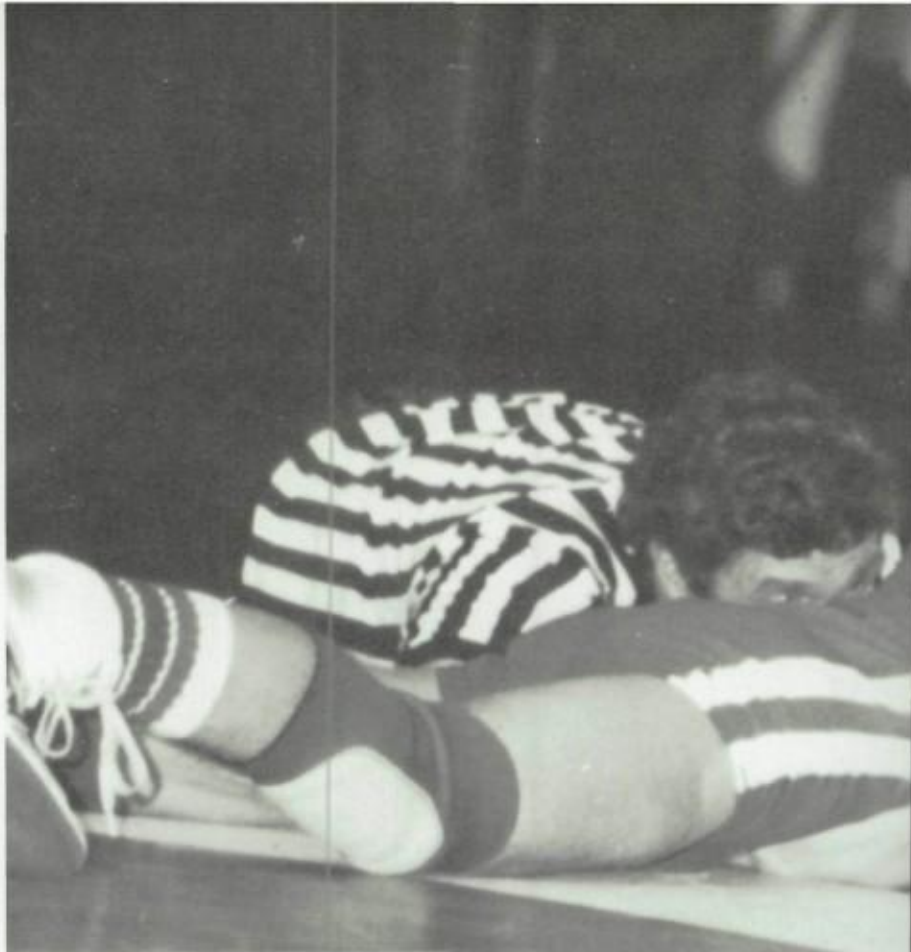

The achievements of this year's squads certainly would not have been possible without the hard work of Coaches William Bechtel and George Hummel and volunteer assistant coaches Tim Cook, and Dan Reinhart. Under their leadership, along with senior captains Mike Reyda, Steve Hoke, and junior captains Andy Beaver and Joe McDonald, the seals matmen have finished the season with a commendable record.

This year's Varsity squad started many underclassmen, usually seven, with seven others seeing some Varsity action. Best records were held by seniors Mike Reyda and Jeff Cook, along with sophomore Chris Hoover. Due to a very tough schedule, the Varsity struggled to make a .500 season. However, they refused to give up, even when facing the number one AAA TEAM IN THE STATE, Shikellamy. Highlights of the season included a close win over the number eight AAA squad, North Schuylkill, and last year's number one AAA team, Danville.

This year's Junior Varsity matmen had an excellent season. The highest J.V. goals were to defeat Shikellamy's J.V. squad, and to win the Milton Junior Varsity Tournament.

The squad's best records were held by Matt Buck at 98 pounds, Matt Kelly at 155 pounds, and Dennis Kreider at 133 pounds.

All of the Selinsgrove matmen have displayed courage and spirit throughout the season. It is clear that these squads have succeeded in the fight to achieve goals which may have been unreachable without hard work and dedication.

Cheerleaders Inspire Confidence

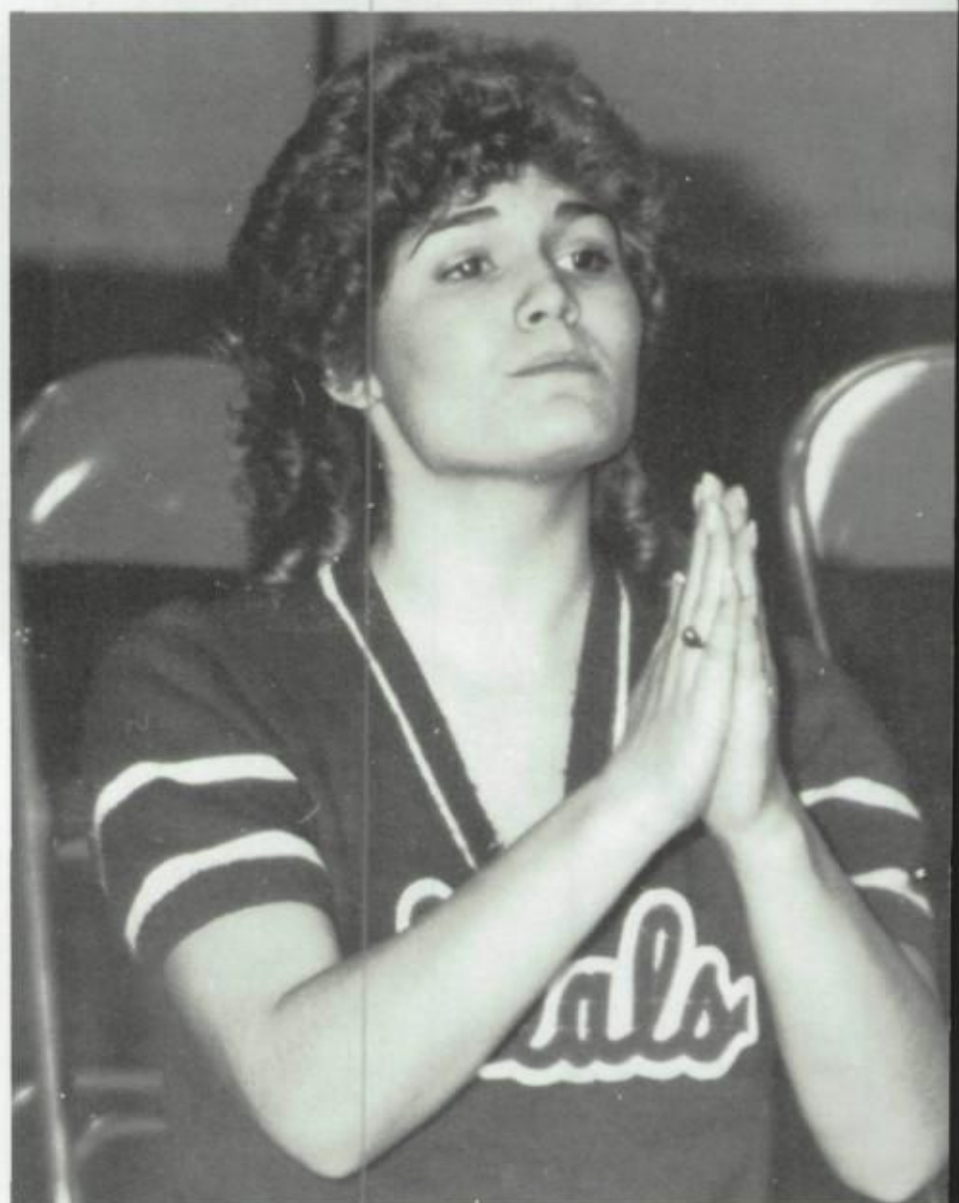

Under the leadership of Senior Co-Captains Hannah Bucher and Tammy Bechtel, the 1984-85 Varsity Wrestling cheerleading squad continued to support the Seals matmen with enthusiastic spirit at each Thursday and Saturday match during December, January, and February. Although the wrestling matches did not begin until mid-December, the 10 member squad actually began practicing in November at the conclusion of football season. The squad practiced and perfected many mounts, cheers and chants to provide both excitement and entertainment at the wrestling matches. Advisor Jerilyn Ludwig and the captains all agreed that for the young squad made up of 4 sophomores, 4 Juniors, and only 2 seniors, tremendous progress was made during the season. Besides being enthusiastic at the wrestling matches, the friendships and camaraderie that developed during the extent of the season between the matmen and the cheerleaders made supporting the wrestlers a sincere and enjoyable task for the cheerleading squad.

Seal Cheerleaders "Psyche-Up" Boys' Basketball Fans

The 1984-1985 Varsity Basketball Cheerleading Squad was led by Co-Captains Danette Hoffman and Michelle Wolfe. This squad cheered for both junior varsity and varsity basketball games on both Tuesday and Friday nights. The girls were able to incorporate new basketball cheers and stunts which the varsity football squad previously learned at cheerleading camp. This squad's spirit was very evident as was their support for the players.

Boys' Basketball Team Enjoys Exciting Season

The seniors of the varsity squad, led by Dave Housely as captain, provided excellent leadership and character for this year's team. Coach Jim Beddall felt that the kids showed great personal and team improvement as the season wore on, and that overall playing ability, dedication, and effort surprised a lot of people who thought that the team would suffer because of senior losses. It was a pleasant surprise, because the Seals were first half of the season champs. Coach Beddall felt that perhaps the hardest game, as well as the most exciting game, came in the form of a triple overtime loss to Central Columbia. The Seals once again provided spectators with an exciting and successful season.

Teamwork Produces Successful Season

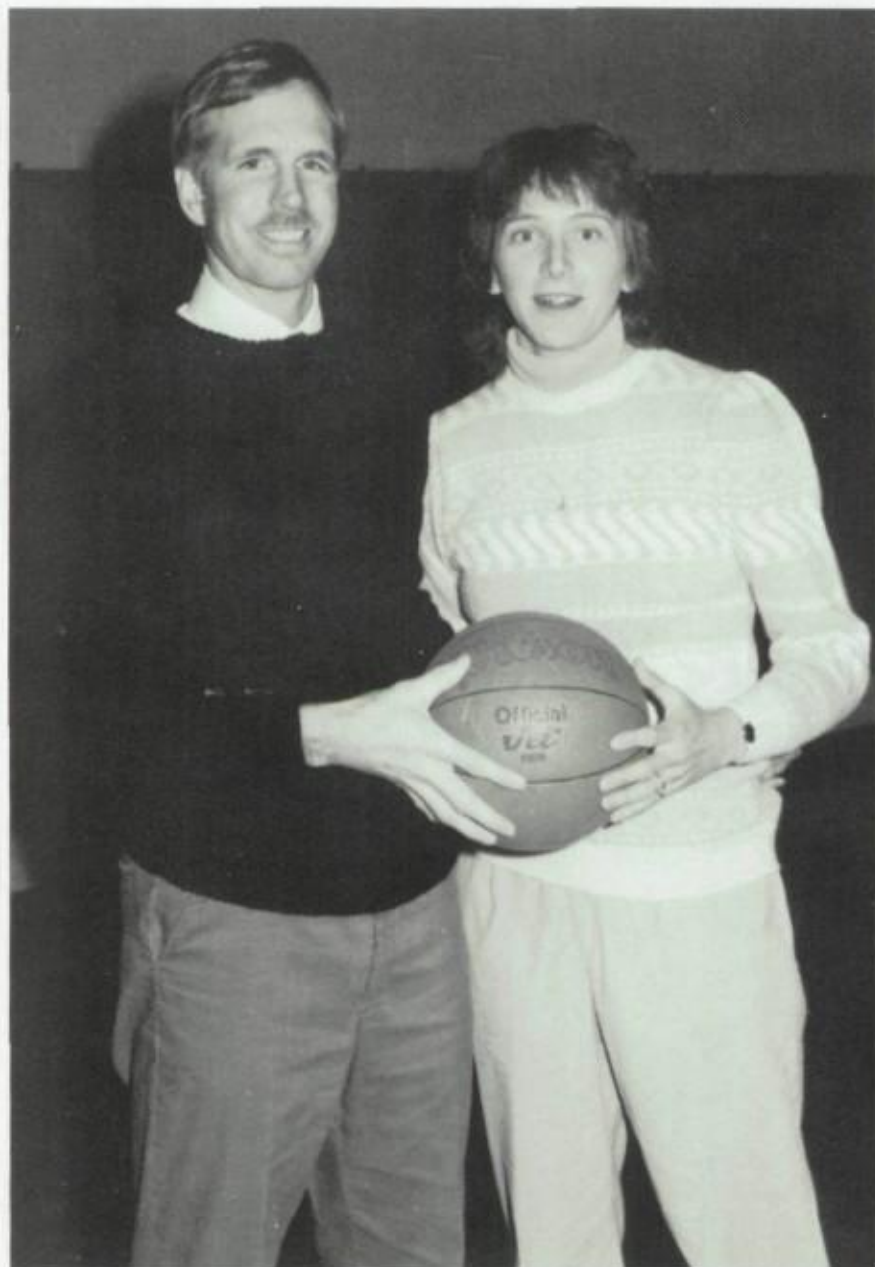

The girls basketball team showed off their skill and teamwork this year, and the result was a highly successful season. The Seals, led by co-captains Nancy Kauffman and Angie Wolfe, won the annual Middleburg Christmas Tournament. Linda Meiser was named to the All-Tournament team, and Angie Wolfe was named the Most Valuable Player. Coach Carlton Seitz is extremely proud of his team, knowing that this group of girls realizes the sacrifices needed and are willing to make them. The team is a young one, and promises many exciting and successful seasons in the years to come.

Bowler's Bursting With Spirit

SAHS's Bowling Team had another successful season under coach, Jim Rutkowski. The team found that Lewisburg and Central Columbia were their most difficult opponents. Some of the outstanding boy's varsity bowlers were Mike Yoder, Bill Rowe, and Jim Hile. The boy's team ended the season with a — record.

The girl's varsity finished with a record of —. Beth Reilly and Gail and Lisa Dickenson were key bowlers for the girl's team. New bowlers and a revived spirit were the ingredients necessary for an enjoyable season.

"This is how it's done guys!", says Carolyn Portzline as she demonstrates to her fellow teammates some pointers about releasing the ball down the lane.

As Mike Yoder approaches the lane, only one thing is going through his mind; Bowling a strike.

Boys' Track Team Remains a Stride Ahead in District IV

Head coach Don Wilhour and team captains Paul Felker, Jeff Holdren, and Matt Nace led the 1984 Boys' Track and Field team to another undefeated season. This team overpowered each of its opponents and dominated the entire Susquehanna Valley area.

Coach Wilhour cited the following people as outstanding team members: Doug Beaver, Jeff Benfer, Bill Burd, Rob Cook, Gill Davis, Paul Felker, Mark Haines, Aaron Jordan, Dan Kurura, Mark Liddington, Matt Nace, Ron Olsen, and Alex Varner.

Ron Olson claimed two new sophomore class records. He set a long jump record of 21'4" and a triple jump record of 43'7". Mark Liddington set a new school record in the 200 meter dash with a time of 22.7 seconds. Liddington also tied the school record in the 100 meter dash with a time of 11.2 seconds. These records show how individual superiority contributes to team success.

After a hard struggle and great determination, Mark Liddington coasts across the finish line.

Seals Finish Undefeated Season With District Championship

The 1984 boys' track and field team once again finished their season undefeated. Repeating their tremendous accomplishments from previous years, this year's team captured two prestigious championships. They won the District IV AAA Title along with the Susquehanna Valley League Championship.

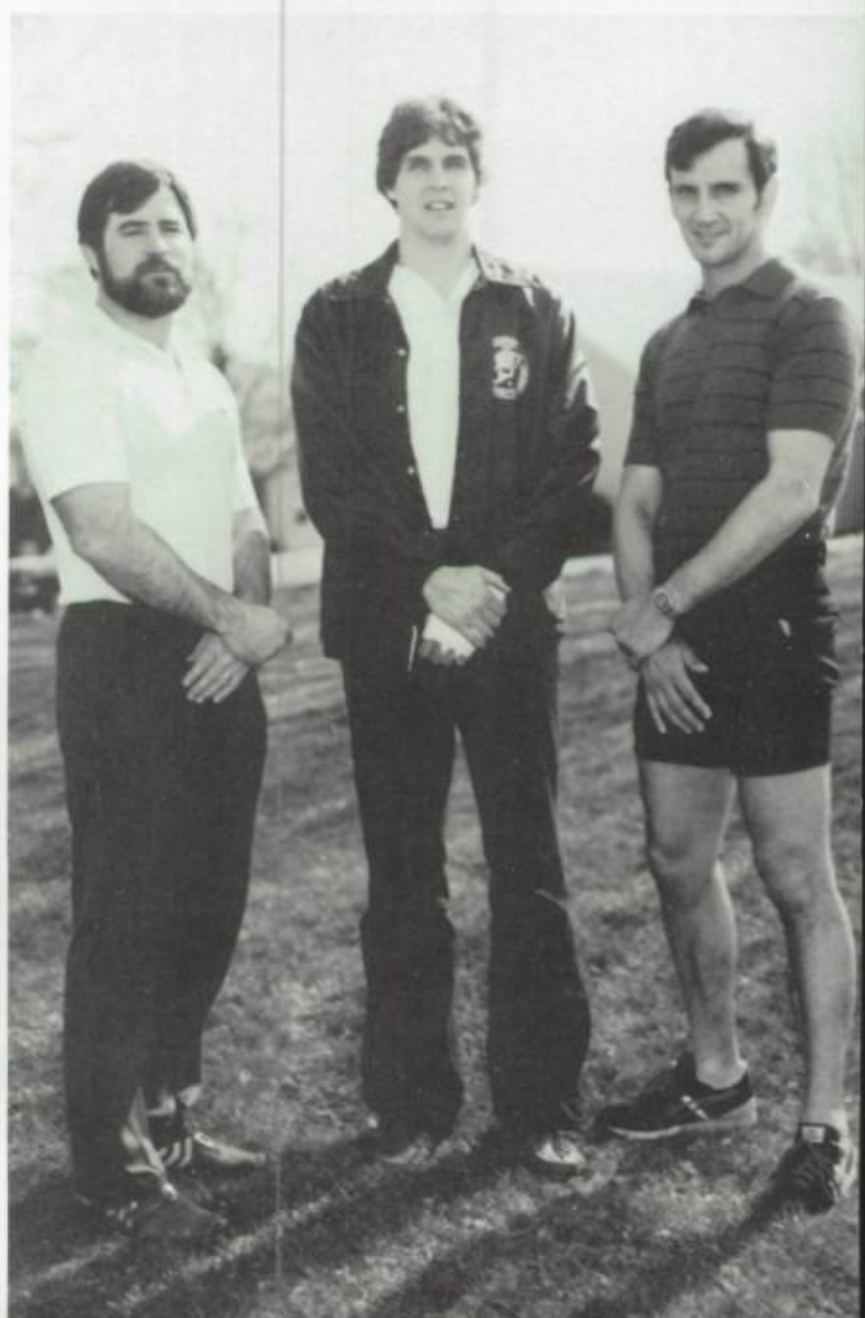

Coach Wilhour was particularly impressed with the team's performance at the District meet. Here, almost every member contributed to the team title by putting in his best performance of the season. Selinsgrove was only seeded third in the meet, but surprised everyone by coming out on top. Several members qualified for state competition and advanced to the state meet at Shippensburg.

The Selinsgrove Boys' Track and Field Team has once again brought a great deal of pride to its school and community. Hopefully, this tradition of excellence will continue for many years.

Girls Track Team Remains Determined

The 1984 girls' track team, coached by Dave Lauer, Vicki King, and Stacy Reed, remained spirited and determined despite their 1-6 record. Captains Meghan Daly, Autumn Swisher, Kathy Muller, and Hannah Bucher led the team well throughout the season. The highlight of the season was the team's win over Montoursville. The girls went on to place fourth in the Susquehanna Valley Classic.

Outstanding team members included Meghan Daly, again the District IV high jump champion. Meghan was undefeated in the regular season for the second consecutive year. Meghan also competed at States.

Autumn Swisher and Kathy Muller, also seniors, had excellent showings. Swisher in the long and triple jumps, and Muller in the jumps and running events. Two freshmen showed good promise, Cherie Vargo and Missy Wiley. The juniors were particularly strong this season, with Betty Witkop, hurdles, Holly Calvert, throwing events, and Mel School, highjump, leading their class.

Underclassmen Promise Better '85 Season

Although the Seals Girls' track team finished their season with 1-7 record, defeating only Montoursville, their season was actually much better than it might seem. All the meets were close, with much of the competition coming down to the last race, the mile relay. In their most exciting meet, the lady Seals lost to Shikellamy by losing the mile relay.

Key Senior members of the track team were Kathy Muller, Autumn Swisher, and Meghan Daly. Meghan was the District Champion in the high jump for the second year in a row. She also bettered her own school record and broke the Senior record by jumping 5'3". Meghan received a plaque at the end of the year for being the outstanding Seals jumper. Betty Witkop and Holly Calvert also received plaque for being the outstanding runner and thrower, respectively. Freshman Melissa Wiley broke the freshman record in the 300 intermediate hurdles with a time of 54.2 seconds. Coach Dave Lauer commented,

Girl's Track Team — Row 1: Missy Hackenburg, Dawn Hilbert, Ellie Nunex, Angie Olson, Meghan Daly, Autumn Swisher. Second Row: Jill Sholley, Melanie Schooll, Barbie Cawthern, Betty Witkop, Chris Nylund, Tammy Masters, Jody Kurtz, Cherie Vargo. New Interest Sparked in Baseball

The 1983-84 SAHS baseball team displayed great interest and enthusiasm throughout the season. The team, that consisted of mostly young, inexperienced players, was led by tri-captains, Paul Kratzer, Trent Dreese, and Jeff Marinucci.

One high point of the season was their win over Shikallem. The team also defeated the strong Danville team twice. The baseball team consisted of some very strong players: Rod Zechman, the Most Valuable Player; Scott Williams, the Best Offensive Player; and Trent Dreese, the Best Defensive Player.

The Seals also set some new school records. Paul Kratzer set a new record for career walks, and Joe McDonald set the record for bases stolen during a single season. This very talented organization ended their very difficult schedule with a record of 6-11. The SAHS baseball team is bursting with new interest, enthusiasm, and players.

Girl's Softball Team Excels in Competition

The Girls 1984 Varsity Softball Team finished their season with a 6-8 record. The team was young compared to other teams in the league with only 3 seniors. The games were all close scoring wise. The pitching improved a great deal from last year. And leading the team was MVP Terri Aucker and also the offense of Angie Wolfe, and Teresa Sprenkle.

As she pitches a sure strike, Krista Kissinger shows great concentration.

SAHS Builds Energy With Clubs and Organizations

Clubs and Organizations at SAHS were always full of energy and this year that did not change. Although construction sometimes disrupted many things, it did not alter the many clubs at SAHS. This year clubs had room to change, too. As an addition to the regular meetings, Club periods were established. This time occurred about twice a month as an activity time. Students who were involved in Clubs met with their organizations during this time.

The music department has planned to expand and build new practice rooms that provide privacy for those who wish to practice music. During foreign language week the German, Spanish, and French clubs provided the rest of the student body with views of their cultures and a chance to learn or experience different lifestyles. Clubs and organizations enrich a student's school time and give them new experiences in which to grow.

Representing a very busy organization at SAHS, drum majors Hazel Wheaton and Brian Catherman rush to do last minute preparation for a pre-game show.

The 1985 Cynosure staff has done a remarkable job under the guidance of Tammy Bechtel and Jodie Bickhart, co-editors in chief. This year extra time was taken in order to develop a special copy style and new layout designs. In addition, many hard long hours were spent working on cropping pictures and developing snappy captions. The yearbook staff worked together to capture all the new and exciting ideas bursting from SAHS.

Chorus Provides

Directed by Mr. Fred Hooper, this year's chorus had a very productive and successful year because of the interest and enthusiasm shown by the students involved. During their daily rehearsals, the chorus sang a variety of music, ranging from classical to popular. The different types of music allowed the chorus members to enjoy themselves while benefitting from an enriching musical experience. The three performances held during the school year were all entertaining and attracted large audiences. Especially challenging was the chorus' winter production of "Joseph and the

Outdoors Club Provides New Experiences

This year's Outdoors Club consists of fifty members with presidents Henry Maurer and Todd Bressler. The club's activities include a climbing excursion at Mocanocqua last fall and a spring climbing trip to Seneca Rocks in West Virginia. Over Easter vacation, sixteen of the club's members went backpacking in Monongahela National Forest, also in West Virginia.

According to the club's advisor, Mr. William Bechtel, the club's goal is to instill self-confidence and confidence in others.

The Outdoors Club has a booster club which helps to raise money for many of the trips. The president of this booster club is Nelson Kerstetter.

The club also lends equipment such as tents, canoes, and rain gear to students so that they may enjoy the outdoors.

As another club member moves on the rock, Jeff Inch studies every move.

After completing her climb, Tammy Irwin waits for her belayer to lower her safely to the ground.

FFA Develops Agricultural Leadership

Advised by Mr. Reichenbach and Mr. Ferry, the Future Farmers of America Organization of Selinsgrove is comprised of about 55 members. The major goals of this organization are to develop Agricultural leadership, citizenship, and cooperation. This year's FFA visited a farm show where they received a 10 plus award. They also visited a flower show and participated in the Penn State FFA week. Another part of this club is a State FFA Band which includes members Tina Bailey, Harold Bailey, Kelly Bergstressor, and Kelly Klingler.

FFA Sun Area Officers were Missy Kessler and Tina Bailey. Missy Kessler and Tina Bailey were also Keystone Farmers along with another member, Scott Swartzlander. Selinsgrove is one of the five Sun Area Schools which compete in many agricultural events every year.

French Club Goes Abroad

This year's French Club, advised by Mr. Robert Brozekat, consisted of forty-three freshmen, forty-five sophomores, sixteen juniors, and fourteen seniors. The club's objective is to enrich and expand the learning of the French language and culture.

Membership to the French club is open to any student who is enrolled in French I, II, III, or IV.

The following were scheduled French Club activities for the 1984-1985 academic year: T-Shirt sale among French-Club students, Spring Party, Baking and Cooking Contest, The "Boules" Tournament, French Club Newspaper, junior-senior soccer game, and French pen-pals. This year during April, 17 members of the French club enjoyed a trip to France and Switzerland.

German Club Active Year 'Round

Advised by Mrs. Gerburg Mowry, the German Club at Selinsgrove High School has continued to be highly active. Eligibility for the German Club requires a student to be enrolled in German II, III, or IV.

One special feature of the German Club is selecting a student to participate in the German weekly conversation program which is held during the school year every Thursday evening at Susquehanna University's International House. The German Club also gives a monetary award to one senior who is selected for having the most enthusiasm, providing the most support for club activities, and appearing most likely to continue with his German studies in college. Students are also selected to spend part of their summer in Germany, thanks to a program sponsored by the American and West German governments. To qualify for this program, a student must have had two years of German, be sixteen years of age, have at least a 3.00 average, and have a teacher recommendation.

Along with these special features, the German Club also holds monthly activities throughout the school year. September's activity is a German party held at Mrs. Mowry's house. October brings the celebration of Oktoberfest. The club's biggest fund raiser, the chocolate sale, is held in November along with a German dinner at a member's house.

In December, a Christmas party is held where student's summer trips to Germany are discussed, complete with a speaker and a slide show presentation. February brings Fastnacht Day. On March fourth, the first day of foreign language week, a field trip will be taken to the West German and East German embassies in Washington, D.C. The German Club has donated fifty dollars to the German/American friendship garden in Washington, and a tree will be planted in their name there. April brings soccer practice to prepare for the big foreign language soccer game. May holds in store the soccer game, a big end of the year picnic, and elections for next year's officers.

Displaying their gingerbread houses, members of the German Club are proud of their achievements.

Spanish Club Studies Culture

This year's Spanish Club, advised by Mrs. Carol Black, consisted of over 100 members. The club promotes the enrichment of the Spanish language outside of the classroom.

One special feature of the club is its summer trip to Spain from July second until July fifteenth. The club enjoyed a little Spanish culture in Selinsgrove this year. Andres Paez, an exchange student from Ecuador, enriched club activities.

Some activities of the Spanish Club include its September Street Fair exhibit, "Spanish Word Art" exhibit for Open house, and its annual club breakfast. The club also participates in a giant gingerbread cookie sale and many special activities during foreign language week. A highlight of the year is the annual Spring Spanish Club dinner. In addition, Spanish Club contestants are sent to Susquehanna University's National Spanish Exam and to International Day Language Competition at Bloomsburg University.

NHS Makes Many Active Changes

The 1984-1985 National Honor Society of Selinsgrove Area High School has undergone many advantageous changes. What previously seemed to be an inactive organization, has developed into an extremely active one. Much credit goes to Mrs. Carol Black, the society's advisor, for initiating these changes.

The purpose of NHS is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote a worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character. National Honor Society may be defined as a privilege accorded to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who demonstrate outstanding scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Prior to induction, academically eligible students are asked to compile a list of service and leadership activities. The names of the candidates are then submitted to all faculty members, who recommend students according to their service, leadership, and character. An appointed Faculty Council of five members then makes the actual selection of new members. Members are inducted during one of two candlelight ceremonies during the year. A fall ceremony inducts seniors and juniors, and a spring ceremony inducts juniors and sophomores.

The members of NHS, intellectually gifted students who share their gift through service and leadership, participate in various service projects throughout the year. Members run a tutoring program within the school, volunteer as guides for Open House, use their time to make Christmas extra-special for senior citizens, assist the school nurse with skin tests, and are providing an all-school student activity profile bank. NHS also awards scholarships to outstanding senior members prior to graduation.

Student Council Bursts With New Ideas

The Student Council at SAHS is carrying out many new ideas this year. Under the President, Ann Baranoski and the Vice-President, Betty Witkop, the council has carried out many worthwhile projects. Because of the renovations, it was necessary to have the Homecoming ceremony outdoors. This big project was the perfect opportunity to see how well this new council would work together. White Christmas, fundraisers, and dances are other important activities that council is responsible for. Student Council is also working together with the administration in order to put a soda machine and a jukebox in the new commons area. A new voting procedure has also been included in the constitution. The representatives are now elected from each underclass social studies class and each senior homeroom. Student Council is also trying to involve the entire student body in such things as decorating and fundraising. This year's student council is certainly bursting with new ideas!

Outstanding Athletes Recognized for Achievements

The female athletes of SAHS are definitely bursting with new ideas and great enthusiasm. The Varsity "S" club, led by President, Linda Meiser, is busy with bake sales and jacket sales throughout the year. The Club has bake sales in order to raise money to give refunds to the seniors for a percentage of the price they have paid for their Varsity "S" jackets. To be eligible for membership in the Varsity "S" club a student must have in her possession, two JV letters or one varsity letter. This club offers the chance for outstanding female athletes to be recognized for their achievements.

Clubs Benefit Students at SAHS

Under the leadership of Mrs. Julie Hatzel, the Future Business Leaders of America are students from tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade. The purpose of this club is to promote an understanding of the business world today and for students to gain experience in their school years. The club competes in the Regional Spring Contest which is held annually. This year FBLA went to New York. FBLA also gained profits by selling stuffed animals and Easter candy.

Another club at SAHS that benefits students is the Theater Arts Club. Advised by Mr. Cravitz, the purpose of this club is to encourage appreciation of the theater, involve as many students, and expose students to as much theater as possible. Activities include student presentations, guest speakers, professional performances, and attending this year two performances at Bloomsburg. To raise funds the club sold cheese and sausage. Mr. Cravitz encourages Freshmen to join the Theater Arts Club.

Destiny Awarded for a Job Well Done

The Destiny staff upheld its tradition during the 1984-85 school year by producing an informative and entertaining school newspaper, under the leadership of editors-in-chief Jennifer Praul and Tracee Eroh, the Destiny staff gained experience through hard work and field trips. Published seven times throughout the school year, Destiny informed and entertained readers through a variety of columns, news stories, features, and in depth articles.

This year ten students representing Destiny attended the annual Penn-

SAHS Welcomes New Club

New to the roster of clubs at Selinsgrove Area High School is the Industrial Arts Club.

Advised by Mr. Kirchner and Mr. Harvey, the club's purpose is to promote industrial arts and technology activity, leadership, and fellowship as it relates to industry.

In its first year, the club has competed in local, district, and regional Metric 500 competition. David Leitzel had the best time for Selinsgrove entries with a .987 second time.

The club hopes to expand into other areas of competition in future years.

Shop skills can only be acquired by patience and practice shown here as Mr. Kirchner gives instructions on the use of the jig saw.

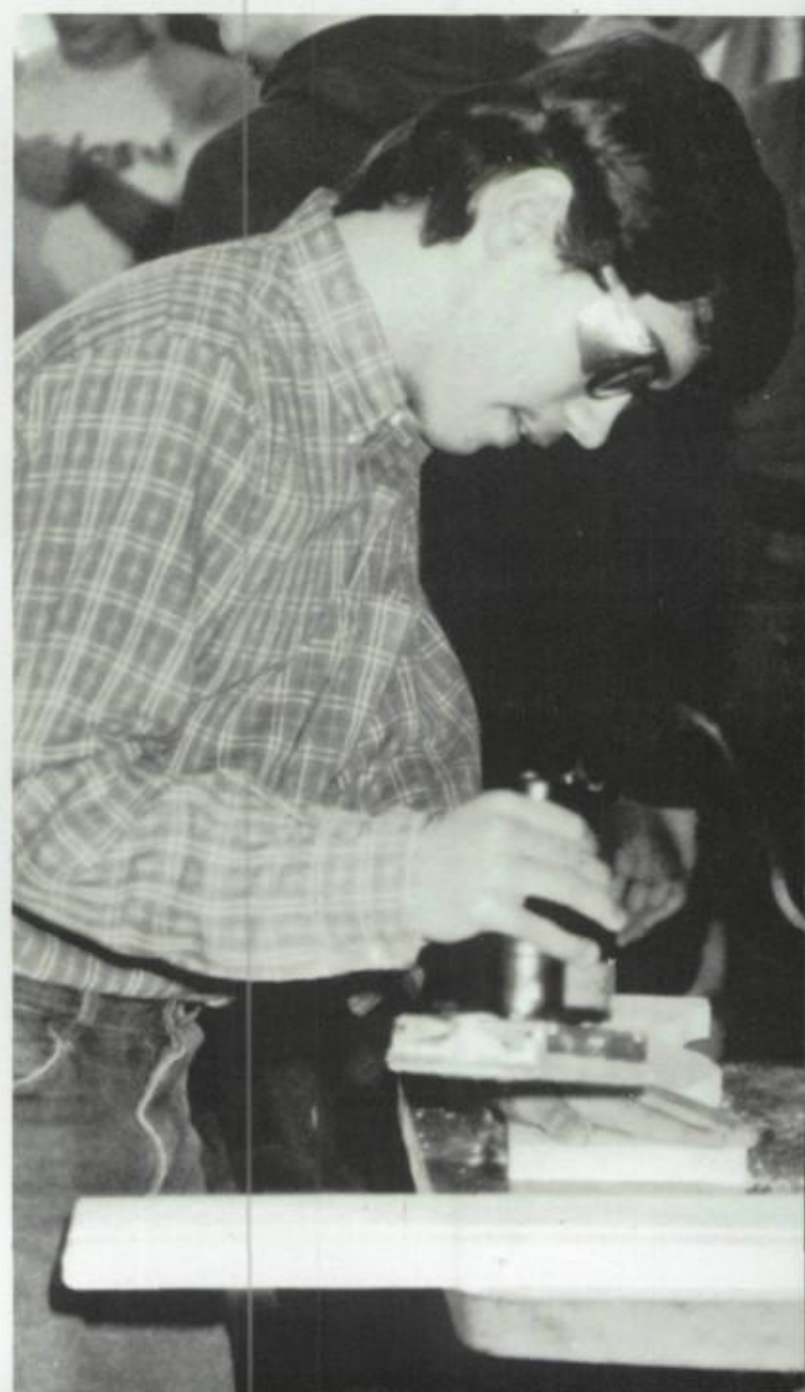

Often the hardest part of finishing a project is sanding, but luckily Isaac Tressler does not have to do it by hand.

Studying to improve their skills, industrial arts students work intently.

Attention to detail separates the real industrial art students from those who are just there for a credit. Bill Reyda completes Mr. Kirchner's exact instructions.

FHA Benefits the Students and the Community

Advised by Mrs. Alma Pauling, the Future Homemakers of America Club's main purpose was to provide opportunities for self development, preparation for family and community living, and for employment. To be eligible for this club you may be either male or female and must have taken or plan on taking a Home Economics Education course or any other Home Economic related course. This year the FHA club made big profits selling Kathryn Bite Candy Bars.

The club also hosted the Central District Region meeting of the FHA/HERO club. A member, Kathy Stauffer, became one of the nine Central Region Officer's. This club not only benefits the students involved but also helps the home and community by developing pride in family and the job and by putting our community on the map.

SAHS Band Performs With Great Talent

Under the direction of Mr. Francis Pineno, the SAHS band provided year long entertainment for the community. Practice began in August and members exhibited their talents at games throughout the football season. The band participated in Northumberland and Selinsgrove Area parades and also marched through Selinsgrove during the annual Street Fair. SAHS band also performed in the Middleburg Fireman's Carnival Parade winning the Best All Around award. The Band presents an Annual Spring Concert and a Pops Concert. The Under-classmen finished the year with a performance at commencement. SAHS Band enjoyed a trip to Virginia in the Spring.

SAHS Takes on Many Changes For Underclassmen

Selinsgrove Area High School started out as a small school 50 years ago and over the years the school has grown. But starting in 1984 and continuing through 1985 the school has undergone many renovations. Those who are most affected by these changes are the underclassmen. Each day something is taken out or added. A new wing was built and walls were knocked out. Underclassmen will experience new classrooms, a new auditorium, a new gym and a new lockerroom. Underclassmen will experience the changes as renovations create a new and more beneficial school. Extras such as new lab facilities, an advanced library, nicer classrooms, and other advancements help provide students with aids to their educational growth.

A social area was added to give students time to get with friends and relax. As the changes were happening, students had to be flexible and sometimes switch from one room to another, tolerate loud noises which disrupted class time, and walk around construction materials lying in halls. Although sometimes the renovations were a bother, underclassmen looked forward to a new and better equipped school.

A wet October football game provided an excellent opportunity for a group of underclassmen to have a blast

Juniors Use Enthusiasm to Overcome a Transition Period

Like the rest of the student body at SAHS, the Junior class was faced with the challenge of surviving in a semi-new school building. However, this class had to especially undergo many changes from within. First, the Juniors had to choose a new advisor. Their decision was well made as Mr. Faust proved a worthy attribute to the efforts of the class. This enthusiastic advisor helped his class put on a successful aluminum drive to raise money for the Prom and Post Prom. The Juniors used their creativity to sponsor a very successful Prom held for the first time in the Middle School. The Junior Class certainly proved to be one bursting with new ideas.

Sophomores Approach Second Year With Gained Acceptance and Enthusiasm

Upon entering their second year of high school, the sophomores have lost all traces of apprehension and insecurity that they felt as freshmen. By being known as an outgoing class and being very involved in school activities, the sophomores have shown that growing accustomed to high school life has not been difficult at all.

Class of '88 Achieves Successful Freshman Year

Led by President Michael Stout, the freshmen faced the transition from Middle School to high school with enthusiasm. Due to the construction this year, the freshmen entered a school which is slightly different from what other freshman classes have encountered. However, the freshmen have adjusted well, and they are looking forward to being called "upperclassmen" by next year's freshmen.

Young People Strive for More Independence

This year's resource class is special group of young people who work very hard every school day. They work to learn the basic academic skills which they will need to prepare themselves for life after school. These students have hobbies and activities for their spare time, and, while in school, learning pre-vocational and home-economic skills occupies their time. Their classes prepare them for a more enriched and independent life.

After completing his art project, Christopher Gorrett smiles with pride at his teacher's approval.

Listening attentively, Scott Reinard concentrates as Mrs. Kauffman explains a math problem.

SAHS Is Expanding With New Ideas In Academics

Changes involved not only the students of SAHS this year, but also the faculty. To the delight of the science teachers new and better facilities were intalled which will help broaden the learning students receive by participating in laboratory time. Another benefit to the school will be the library facilities with a greater access to resources. In addition to the well-prepared faculty, Miss Reiland was hired as an English teacher. Along with the many normal noises during a school day, teachers had to put up with drills, hammers and other annoying interferences from construction.

As technology in the rest of the world increases it reaches the schools and provides new and exciting ways to learn. This year more computers and new, improved business equipment were available enabling teachers to reach students in more ways. Along with the changes was the addition of new courses such as Music Cultures in the music area. The new environment developed greater possibilities for teachers to further the education of students. With the addition of better classrooms and new educational facilities, students are sure to receive an enriching education helpful to their lives after high school.

Many teachers here at SAHS share enthusiasm for extra-curricular activities. Mr. Cooper often turns his talents to help students perform to the best of their abilities.

A Special Thanks to Special People

Throughout the past four years, the Class of 1985 has matured and undergone many changes. Our growing up was mostly a trial and error deal — and we probably all agree mostly error! But somehow we managed to survive all those mistakes and actually become very successful young adults. Our survival depended a lot upon a very special group of people who always enthusiastically lent a helping hand — and sometimes a helpful ear. People like our parents, our teachers, our coaches, and our guidance counselors all gave us the advice that we often needed. To show our appreciation, the 1985 Cynosure is dedicated to two such individuals. They have advised us individually, in classes, in special activities, and in the production of this yearbook. We wish to extend a special thank-you to Margaret Shaloka and Bill Bechtel for helping us make it through the years.

Back again as chaperones, Mr. Bechtel and his wife have enjoyed Proms together since 1966 — Mr. Bechtel's junior year here at SAHS.

Also anticipating a festive formal occasion, an elegant Miss Shaloka models her beautiful gown for her family.

Showing enthusiasm for her job as a teacher, Miss Shaloka spends a great deal of her time in school helping students with composition and grammar. In the evening, she spends several hours a week in a classroom other than her own learning about new methods of teaching and dealing with students.

Although Mr. Bechtel occasionally teases catlover Miss Shaloka with his mummified feline, this sunny summer day in Canada he was content with merely teasing a few whopper fish with worms.

Graduating as a geology major from Susquehanna University, Mr. Bechtel's interest in rocks sparked early. However, it was not until he first visited his favorite place, Seneca Rocks, West Virginia, that he actually became interested in climbing.

A proud graduate of Catholic High School, an ambitious Miss Shaloka then attended Bloomsburg State College.

Never wanting to leave his little orange pride and joy behind, Mr. Bechtel even takes his Volkswagen van to the mountains with him every Easter to wait at the end of the trail for him.

Vo-Tech Students Prepare for Future Occupations

Vo-Tech offers specialized studies in a variety of training programs. These skill oriented programs prepare students for occupations after high school in careers such as dental hygiene, auto mechanics, cosmetology, electronics, and masonry.

During the 1984-85 school year, approximately sixty-five Selinsgrove Area High School seniors chose the specialized training of Sun Area AVTS.

Strutting his stuff, Cory Hoffman shows Bill Rowe the way things are done.

With intense concentration, Matt Hackenberg puts his knowledge of plumbing to work.

"It's so clean, I can see myself!" reports Barry Brubaker while putting on the finishing touches.

Taking a break from her work, Bobbie Boone takes a minute to talk to some friends.

Caught in one of his rarest moments Brian Wagner is actually doing written work.

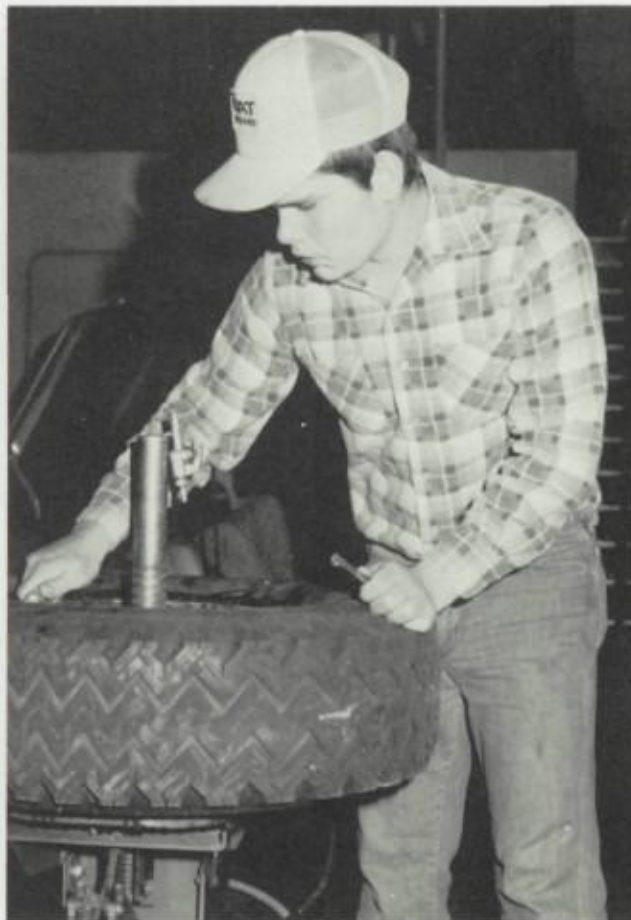

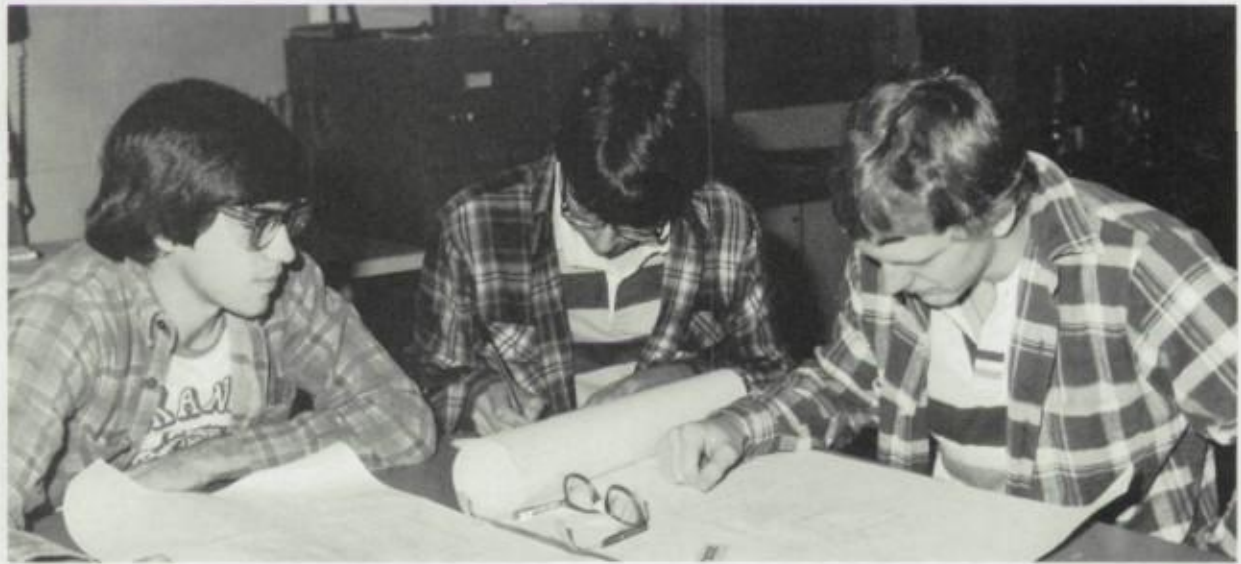

Using their acquired knowledge, Judy Bowersox and Candy Buck work on Tena Gehers while Tammy Schuck supervises.

Just to make sure he did his job correctly, Mike Leply checks the newly fastened bumper for any errors.

Getting acquainted with the blueprints allows Steve Kerstetter, Todd Gaugler and Doug Bickhart to spot problems in no time.

With extreme cautiousness, Keith Kerlin repairs a switch in the fuse box.

Putting air in a tire, can be a very hard task. But Gary Bingamin knows exactly what he's doing.

Being very precise at what she is doing, Ginger Siere works on Melanie Scholl's hand, preparing it for a manicure.

Math and Business Teams Use New Equipment to Enhance Teaching Methods

As in every area computers are used and involved in mathematics education at Selinsgrove Area High School. As renovations proceed more area and better facilities have become available for the computer science classes. In addition to computer skills, business math, algebra, trigonometry, advanced math, geometry, and general math skills, theorems, formulas, equations, and problems remain paramount in preparing successful high school graduates.

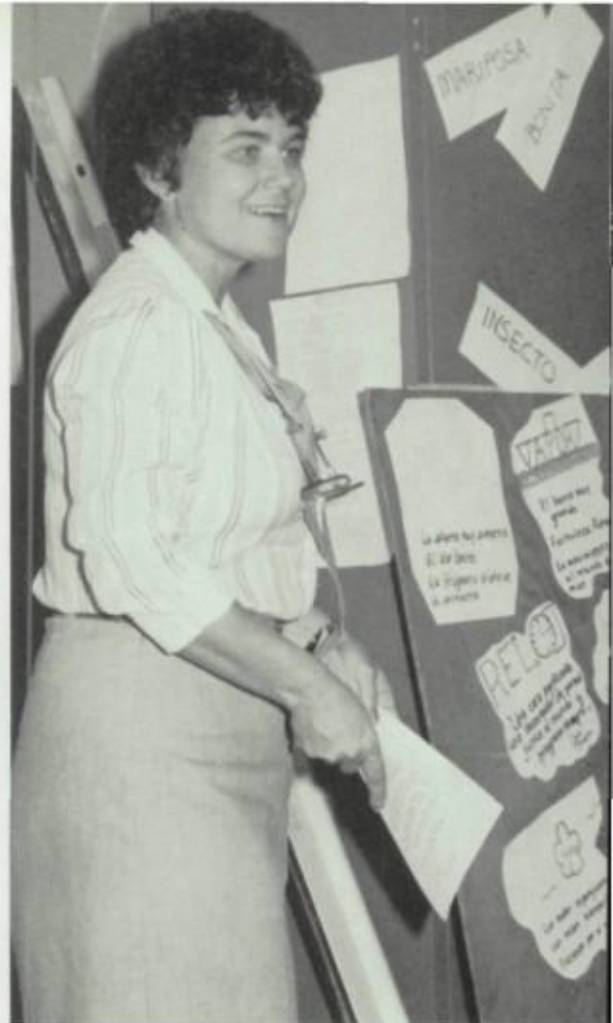

With more equipment and enhanced facilities the Business Team has been able to provide an even better training program for Selinsgrove Area High School students. Computers, word processors, and the most up to date office machines help students to successfully prepare for business careers and schools. Skills and theory are combined in the classrooms and a work program outside of the high school make for experienced graduates.

Waiting for the bell to ring, Mr. Palkendo finally has a chance to sit down and relax.

With great enthusiasm, Mrs. Black reviews the day's homework.

Taking a break between classes, Mr. Strickland finds time to correct some papers.

After a lab, Mr. Everly shows his class "how it should be done."

English and Foreign Language Teachers Stress the Importance of Communication Skills

Once again the Language Arts faculty of Selinsgrove Area High School emphasized writing in all its forms — paragraphs, themes, research papers, business articles, original fiction. The emphasis on composition enhances all levels and areas encompassed in the English program at the high school. Literature served as topics for writing. Grammar served to perfect written form and vocabulary.

The Foreign Language Team not only educates students in the vocabulary and grammar of their chosen language but also provides instruction and experiences in the culture of Spanish, French, and German speaking countries. Meals, music, art, food, all combine to further students' knowledge. Likewise, the faculty organizes trips to countries where students may use their classroom learning.

Okay Mr. Kirschner, show us how to "do it right!"

"Now I know I put your tests somewhere!" responds Mrs. Drahser.

Is algebra II as difficult as it sounds? There is no better person to ask than Mr. Wilhour.

Even though studies in the lobby are quite loud, Mrs. Rowe still manages to get her work done.

Unified Arts and Physical Education Faculty Members Develop Students Special Talents

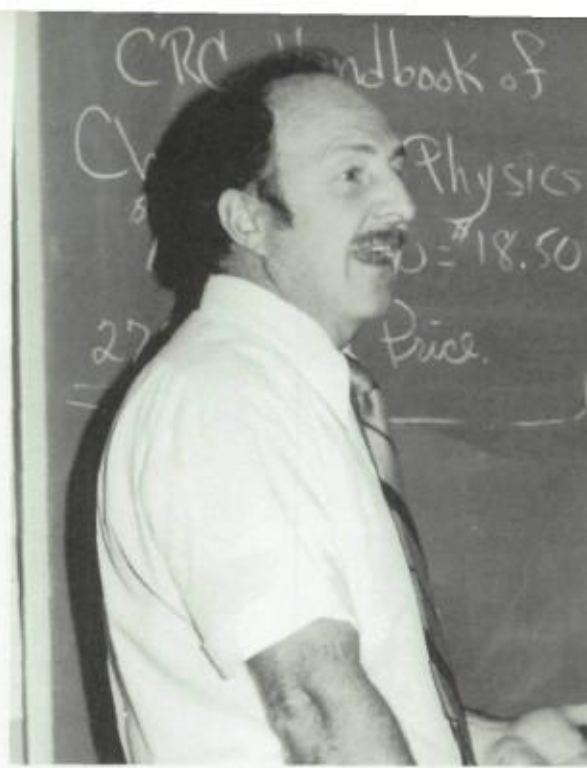

Limited and nonexistent facilities never seemed to interfere with Selinsgrove Area High School's physical education and health programs. Pleasant autumn weather and mild temperatures allowed students and instructors to use the school's campus for gym classes. Classroom space provided minor handicapping for lessons in physical and mental well being. Muscles, bones, depression, neuroses, and psychoses provided lecture and report topics and test material for health students.

Hands on experience is the key to unified arts education at Selinsgrove Area High School. Students learn to work with foods, wood, and metal, to handle farm machinery, to produce animals and plants, to prepare blue prints and designs, to drive safely and wisely, to handle paints and varnishes and finishes, and, most of all, to complete projects for deadlines. Lab and classroom work demands self-discipline from within each student.

Mr. Fausey pauses for a moment to explain the process of setting up a Chemistry formula.

Although it's hard to believe Mr. Becker sometimes resorts to Computer manuals in order to aid him in writing a program.

Mr. Hooper enjoys helping those who wish to further their musical abilities. John Martina seeks Mr. Hooper's musical talent to accompany him on a piece of music.

Science Faculty Anticipates New Laboratory Facilities

Patiently waiting for much improved facilities, the science faculty continued to provide demanding lessons and laboratory experiences for their students. Chemicals, aquariums, terrariums, equipment, and experiment materials crowded rooms, shelving, and closets more than ever during the school year. And yet, amidst these conditions, students and teachers prepared for tests and projects successfully.

Understanding Business Math II can get a little tricky, but these complications can be overcome with a little help from Mr. Navrocki.

Even with his busy schedule, Mr. Cravitz still finds some time to kick his feet back and relax.

Social Studies Team Stresses History's Role in Daily Life

History's role in man's life dominates the social studies team purpose in educating the students at Selinsgrove Area High School. American, World, Current, and Ancient cultures are examined and related to them. Ambitions, goals, wars, inventions, and traditions have enriched everyone's life and this knowledge is shared in the classroom daily through discussions, lectures, films, and projects to create an atmosphere in which more lives are enriched.

Making sure everything is in its place, Mr. Lentz closes up a hard day of work.

Teaching English isn't as easy as it sounds. Ask Mrs. Savidge and she'll tell you.

Typing isn't that much fun, reports Mrs. Naugle after she spends much of the morning typing the absentee reports.

Administration Prepares and Organizes a Busy School Year

Planning, preparation, and organization for the school district's pupils seem to materialize from thin air. However, daily, weekly, monthly, the yearly Selinsgrove Area administration staff work long hours to make the marking periods, semesters, and school year pass reasonably smoothly and successfully. The administrative staff are the silent partners in education.

Bursting With Thanks for Those Who Are Advertising

Without the enthusiasm of a very special group of people, this book would never have reached the printer. These people are both the advertisers whose names are listed in the following pages and the students who solicited their patronage. All these people have contributed greatly to the success of this publication. A few very dedicated students here at SAHS brought in more money from the community than ever before. This achievement is not only accredited to those people on the advertising staff, but also to the entire student body. Because of a renewed spirit of enthusiasm at SAHS, the community is bursting with pride for SAHS.

With the help of a few teachers, Joe Kleinbauer's store got a "new look" this summer.

Seniors Burst With Eagerness to Grasp New Individuality

No student can emerge from a school year without being touched and changed by the journey he has made through time, classes, experiences, and the world. Often he knows more about himself as a result of his sojourn, and in gaining more knowledge, he perceives more clearly who he is likely to become. Each class, too, as a unit, discovers an identity which is uniquely its own. With the conclusion of these pages comes the conclusion of the identity of the class of 1985 as being Seniors. However, the pages of each individual's history will continue on for his lifetime. All students here at SAHS must realize that the journey of a lifetime begins with a single step. We must all reach and search for that intangible moment when each individual's identity is materialized. We must push forward with enthusiasm and anticipation to prepare for the time when the future becomes a reality, and a life imagined becomes a life lived. We must continue to burst with new ideas and energy in all of our endeavors. Eager to realize a togetherness that must be left forever untouched, yet eager to grasp a new individuality, we will pause to remember to good times shared and created here in the halls, sports fields and classrooms of SAHS before moving on to enjoy, enjoy, ENJOY!

During White Christmas decorating, Kelly Baylor and Steve Weller get a kick out of Mr. Messner's bib overhauls.

Before a big test in Chemistry I, a nervous Sherry Entz takes one last glance at her notes.

With a mischievous twinkle in his eye, Brian Bodmer shyly tries to hold back his super smile.

Although SAHS has undergone many changes, some things — such as the birch trees — will remain constant forever.

To make a long day, seem a little more bearable, Hannah Bucher has brightly decorated her locker.

Did you ever feel like things were so complicated that you were going to lose your head?

On a sunny but briskly cold November afternoon, Bill Burd and Tammy Bechtel have a blast decorating downtown Selinsgrove for White Christmas.

During the evening celebration, Senior White Christmas Court members Debbie Kratzer and Matt Nace are presented for the court dance.

Familiar scenes such as students rushing to their lockers or teachers patrolling the halls are found in every school. But here at SAHS, murals painted by students make our hallways a little more interesting.

During their lunch period, Rheta Shaffer and Bill Gard talk about the highlights of their day so far.

Nostalgia

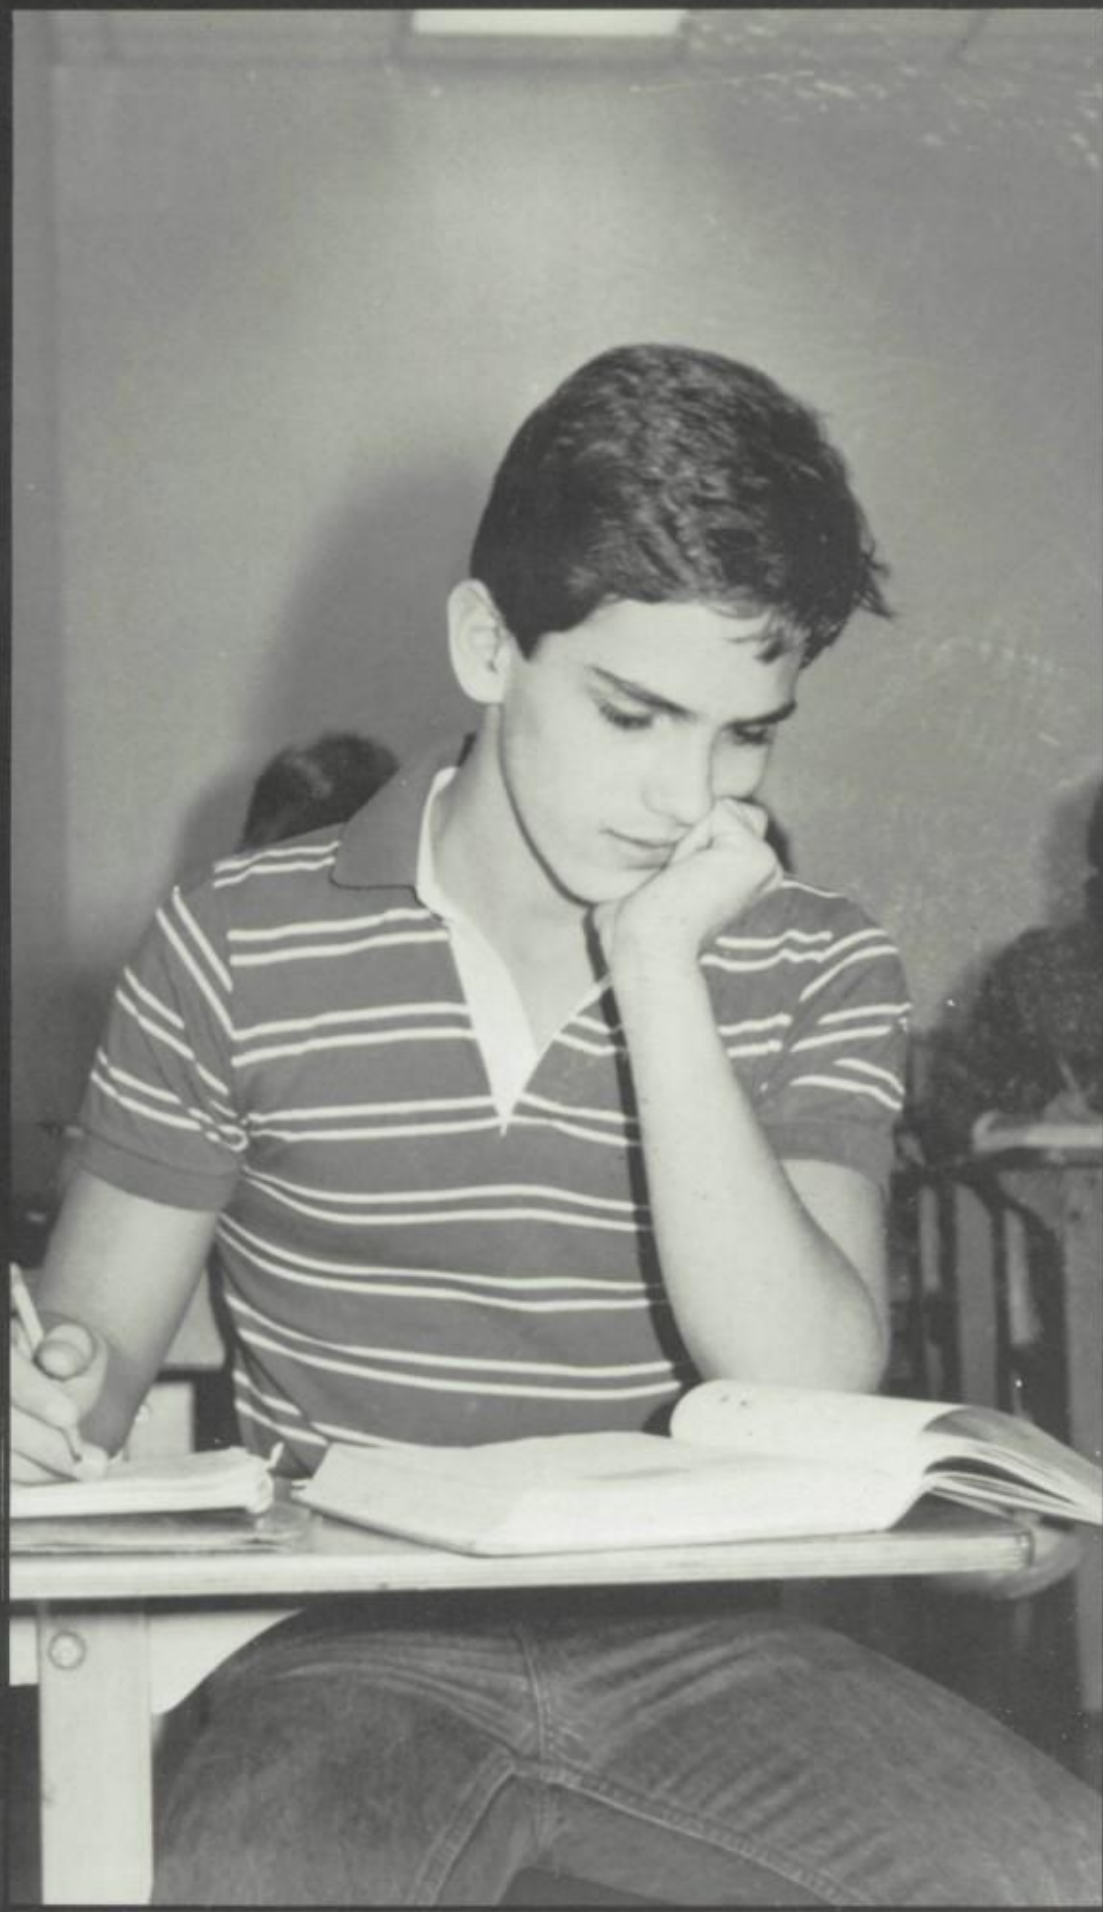

Thinking back on four years: it can seem like such a long time, yet it can pass so quickly. For those of us even remotely involved with SAHS, those four years create impressions that eventually become only memories. Reminisce about all the little treasures that cannot fit into this book ... the friendships, good times, long Mondays and everlasting Fridays, broken hearts, daily announcements, the big game you won, and the big game you lost.

Keep this book around. Stick it with the encyclopedias in your closet, or under your bed, or bury it with your most hated text. But keep it around.

A day will come when you won't remember what a good friend looked like, who taught you in Algebra I, what the Senior Class Play was, or what team won the District Championship. Someday, the name Cynosure will mean a lot to you, and when it does, you will be glad you have kept this book around.

Like a good wine, this volume will increase in value with age. It will take you back to the best time of your life. Back to a time that can only be relived in your memory, and captured forever in this book.

In anticipation of a hard swimteam practice, Eric Britton works diligently in study hall to get all of his homework done.

During half-time of a basketball game, Stacey Newton takes a break from cheering to chat with Sep Feldmann.

In just one of many quiet, thought provoking, 8th period study halls in room 302, Rodney Hoke and Jon Bailey find their thoughts wandering off to the weekend — something that always makes Rodney smile!

Smiling with relief, Krista Kissinger is glad to see the end of football season drawing near.

Remembering a lot of great times, Laurie McLearnen and Hazel Wheaton get a kick out of a few mistakes that made it all the way from band camp to the last football game.

Realizing it's time for movin' on, Tracey Bilger smiles and prepares herself for her future.

Opposite Page: Ready to break out of this place and become stars, Todd Miller and Missi Lauer don their shades and dream of Hollywood.

It's Time For Movin' On

You are always
my friend
when I am happy
or when I am with people
You are always my friend
if I see you today
or if I see you
a year from now
if I talk to you today
or if I talk to you
a year from now
You are always my friend
and though through the years we will change
it doesn't matter what you do
Throughout our lifetime
you are always

My Friend
